Campaign Workers Attend 'Kickoff' Dinner

First YW Pledges Amount to $3,497

Pledges totaling $3,497 were received at the "kickoff" dinner for the YWCA capital funds campaign for $75,000 last night in First Methodist Church.

Captains and workers began to day their fund solicitations in the campaign which is slated to end at a victory meeting June 14. More than 120 persons gathered at last night's instruction meeting when 700 assignment cards were distributed by Roland Traver, campaign counselor.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp acted as toastmaster for the evening and explained the need for funds and a breakdown of costs for the YW purchase of the Blanche Lease property at 364 N. Lincoln Ave. for a permanent home and erection of a separate building on the Lease property for the YW facilities.

Cost Breakdown Shown
A breakdown of costs includes the property of the Lease land, $16,500; new construction, $75,000; remodeling and redecorating, $5,000; furnishings and equipment, $15,000; and miscellaneous expenses, $3,500.

A $40,000 bequest of the late M. Edith Ritz will be used for construction of the YW building. The Ritz will stipulates that the new headquarters must be financed and construction underway before Jan. 3, 1958.

Mayor Dean B. Cramer, in emphasizing his endorsement of a YWCA, noted that all recreational activities in Salem are built around boys and men, and that facilities for girls and women were sorely needed.

"Our YWCA — Its Growth and Future" was explained by Mrs. Frank Brian, president of the YW board, who told of the initial meeting Oct. 22 of backers of a YW to the time of the first open meeting Nov. 29. During a seven-month drive for membership, Mrs. Brian noted, 1,378 memberships were received, with 847 of those members adult women.

In Alliance where a YW has been maintained for over 25 years, membership totals just over 1,200, with only 500 of those members women, Mrs. Brian added.

Campaign Chairman Harold D. Smith told of "The Task Ahead" and a question and answer session for workers was conducted by Robert Hall and Robert Oswald, campaign co-chairmen.

Initial Reports Due June 3
The initial report meeting of workers and captains has been set for Monday evening, June 3, in First Methodist Church.

Brief remarks were made at last night's meeting by Alfred Fitch, YW attorney; Alroy Bloomberg,

Photographer Sought In Killing

Wealthy Woman Beaten To Death

LOS ANGELES — A gruff-voiced photographer who wanted a picture of a ceramic cat is being sought for questioning about the fatal beating Monday of Mrs. Thelma Macomber, 42-year-old wife of a wealthy contractor.

Mrs. Macomber was found beside her flaming bed at her home in Studio City, a Los Angeles suburb. She died at North Hollywood Receiving Hospital of a fractured skull. Her face was savagely mauled.

A police bulletin was issued for an unidentified photographer who appeared at the $60,000 Macomber home shortly before Mrs. Macomber was found.

Mrs. Linda Mintz, the Macomber maid, was quoted as saying he drove up to the house in a small car, she announced him to Mrs. Macomber and left them in her bedroom. She said she heard a heated discussion in the room. Detectives said the man had called at the Macomber home a week earlier and expressed interest in photographing a ceramic climbing cat—a whimsical decoration fixed to the front door.

Mrs. Macomber's husband, Fred, was reported to be in Costa Rica on business.

She was found by Robert Sampson, 28-year-old interior decorator who married Mrs. Macomber's mother, Irene M. Saxton, in 1955 when she was 63. They share the Macomber home.

Police said Sampson told them he smelled smoke when he returned to the house for lunch and found Mrs. Macomber beside the bed, her pink silk nightgown covered with blood. He carried her out of the house and extinguished the fire with a garden hose.

Mrs. Macomber had been recuperating from a spinal injury.

11 Indicted In Probe Of Scandal Magazine

LOS ANGELES — Actress Francesca De Scaffa used a hidden wrist watch recording device to help her collect information and tips on film folk for Confidential magazine, the county grand jury was told.

A 142-page transcript of testimony—sprinkled with such stellar names as Ava Gardner, Kirk Douglas, Kim Novak, Desi Arnaz, Herb Jeffries, Sonny Tufts, Elizabeth Scott, Mickey Rooney, Anita Ekberg and Marilyn Monroe—became a public document Monday.

Filed in Superior Court, the transcript of secret hearings which resulted in indictment of 11 persons included testimony:

That Confidential publisher Robert Harrison bought a recording device disguised as a wrist watch so Miss De Scaffa could record conversations.

That the Venezuela-born actress, former wife of actor Bruce Cabot, earned $30,000 to $40,000 for her tips.

That a Hollywood prostitute supplied other tips and stories. That the magazine was primarily interested in the stars' sex lives.

The grand jury's investigation of so-called scandal magazines brought indictment of Miss De Scaffa, Harrison and several others.

Legislature Plans Adjournment June 18

Justice Bill Faces Ohio Senate Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio — With its eye set on ending working sessions Wednesday and adjourning June 18, the Ohio Legislature rolled peacefully through a 44-bill session Monday and planned to tackle at least as many more today.

Agreement on final adjournment June 18 was reached by Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem and House Speaker Roger Cloud in a conference with Gov. C. William O'Neill late Monday.

Highlight in a welter of last-minute legislation was a probable Senate vote today on a House bill to junk the justice of the peace system in favor of a county court system.

Under O'Neill administration urging, the Senate Monday passed a house-approved bill increasing pensions, starting Oct. 1, for 16,746 public employees in all three state retirement systems who retired before June 29, 1955. All those affected are assured of at least 10 per cent increases. Boosts for some who retired years ago will be in the vicinity of 33 per cent.

The House revived and passed a Senate-approved bill to require parents of vandal children to post up to $500 bond to guarantee against further acts of destruction. The bill failed by a single vote last Friday to pass the House. On reconsideration, the bill passed the House Monday with 10 votes to spare and went back to the Senate for consideration of amendments.

The measure now requires proof that parents failed to exercise reasonable control over their children—and that later acts of vandalism resulted from that failure. The House today was scheduled to weigh reconsideration of the defeat of a Senate-approved measure to increase the permissible spending by political candidates in their election campaigns.

An echo of the long and bitter telephone strike in the Portsmouth area was heard in the Senate Monday as it passed a House-approved measure setting up special penalties for vandalism which disrupts public utility service. The bill passed 21-5 after Senate Minority Leader Joseph W. Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga) declared it was unnecessary because present laws against vandalism set even higher penalties.

OKs Appropriation Bill
The Senate passed without dissent a House-approved bill appropriating slightly more than 149 1/2 million dollars for state assistance programs, including nearly 14 1/2 million for aid to the aged.

The House cleared the way for a vote by the people next November on a constitutional amendment to make it easier for counties to adopt a charter form of government. The way for the decision of the people was cleared by House approval of Senate amendments to the proposal.

The Senate passed a House-approved bill banning use of defective gas-fired heating devices in rental property.

The Senate also passed House-approved bills to:

License driver training schools at $25 a year and instructors at $5. Provide junior probationary driver licenses for those 16-18 years old, but with a provision for automatic revocation for three traffic violations.

Allow bare majority approval for passage of extra park district

Late Bulletin

SAN FRANCISCO — The Navy announced today that one man was shot to death, one was wounded and four were held hostage on a ship at Treasure Island this morning.

A Navy spokesman said the shootings occurred on the Uvalde, a cargo attack vessel. He said the killer was holding four persons hostage on the flying bridge of the vessel.

Major Floods Are Subsiding

Thousands Remain Homeless, However

DALLAS — Cloudbursts dumped up to 8 inches of rain on scattered parts of Texas Monday, but major flooding appeared to be subsiding in many sections of the Southwest.

Thousands of persons remained homeless, however, in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas as rivers and streams continued to overflow or run near bankfull from earlier torrential rains.

May Return To Homes

Some of the 2,100 persons driven out by the flooding Trinity River in Dallas hoped to return to their homes today. In nearby Fort Worth, where 4,000 fled the surging river during the weekend, water began receding in all areas. The flood victims were not expected to be able to return before the end of the week, however. The river was receding slowly.

The Arkansas River continued to cause damage. Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas said he would appeal for federal aid.

The Arkansas spilled over low-lying farms from Fort Smith 150 miles eastward to Little Rock. Crest forecasts were revised upward a foot or two. Civil defense estimated 1,000 persons have been evacuated, mainly in North Little Rock and including the 400 persons comprising the population of Moffett, Okla., just across the river from Fort Smith.

Floods Close Highways

Flash flooding hit sections of south Texas after the torrential rains Monday. Hundreds were chased from their homes at San Antonio temporarily when nearly 4 inches of rain sent creeks spilling out of their banks. Roads were closed for an hour on all approaches to the city.

Up to 8 inches of rain fall in the area around Uvalde, Tex., home of former Vice President Garner. Uvalde is 75 miles southwest of San Antonio.

Flooding continued in southwest Missouri where crop damage has been estimated at 15 million dollars.

One person drowned in Missouri and another was missing in Texas.

The Mississippi River rose to

Candidates Must File Expenses By June 6th

EAST LIVERPOOL — The county election board mailed letters today to 31 candidates who sought nominations at the May 7 primaries in six cities and villages reminding them that they have only until June 6 to comply with the corrupt practices act of filing sworn statements of their campaign expenditures.

The board cited a provision in the revised state law that declares a candidate who fails to file a report automatically disqualifies himself from seeking office in any election in the next five years.

The law requires the board to certify names of delinquents to the prosecuting attorney. Nominees who fail to file cannot receive certificates of nomination, thus barring them from places on the November general election ballot.

U. S. Explodes 'Small' 'A' Device In Nevada

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. — London with the possibility of ending nuclear experiments.

The 10-kiloton device flared an unearthly light over the test center. A tremendous mushroom cloud erupted into the pre-dawn sky. Shot time was 4:55 a.m.

The top of the cloud coiled and boiled into the sky and drifted away from its stem. The first faint rays of the sun capped the soaring mass with a creamy mantle.

Spectacular as was the explosion, it was small compared with other tests carried out here during the five years the United States has tested atomic weapons on the Nevada desert.

The 10-kiloton power of today's device is equal to the energy of 10,000 tons of TNT. This is about one half the bombs which destroyed the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in World War I. Bombs of more than 20 kilotons have been tested here.

As the blast went off from atop a 500-foot tower at Yucca Flat 70 miles northwest of Las Vegas 31 aircraft streaked into the radioactive field to photograph the mushroom cloud and to track its path as the light wind carried it away.

In observation posts ringing the test site were 200 military personnel. The test was witnessed by newsmen from a site 11 miles away.

This explosion, delayed since May 16 by adverse wind conditions, was intended to provide the Atomic Energy Commission with information on radiation measurements, flash effects, and fallout.

The entire series, which will continue until Sept. 1 and will include more than 15 shots, is designed "to attain new knowledge

Five Persons Held; Dynamite, Guns Seized

Shooting Results In $250,000 Suit Filed Against UMW

GUNTHERSVILLE, Ala. — It was quiet today around a construction project where gunfire killed two men and wounded six others.

The shooting Monday resulted in a $250,000 damage suit filed in Marshall Circuit Court against United Mine Workers, District 60. The court action was filed by Gulf States Construction Co. Inc., of Atlanta, whose workers clashed with UMW pickets at a plant being constructed for the Cotton Producers Assn.

Gulf States also was granted a temporary injunction against mass picketing at the plant.

The suit named James L. Ledbetter and Ed Payton, UMW representatives, as the chief defendants. Ledbetter and Payton could not be reached immediately for comment.

The suit charged the UMW with conspiring to violate the laws, and to prevent Gulf States from working at the plant "by use of violence, threats, intimidation, mass picketing and the shooting of the plaintiff's work superintendent and the murder of one workman."

State, county and city officers were investigating the shooting that killed 22-year-old John Leroy Ward of Parsons, Kan., and the Rev. William Clinton Harrison, also 22, an itinerant minister who was in the picket line.

Five persons are being held in

Off Into Space; A Lot For A Nickel (2)

5 Cents Per Person Covers Cost Of Making, Shooting Out Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — For one nickel from you, the world is going to get a never-before-seen idea of our life-giving sun.

Plus a count on how many meteors clutter up space.

Five cents, or less, could be your share of the cost of the first man-made moon, and what it will do, see and tell.

The United States plans to shoot up six satellites during the International Geophysical Year. Each will be geared to seek out specific new facts about things in space that affect the way we live, or may live.

The first one has a window to look at the sun, and microphones to hear and count and ping, ping, ping—or wham—of thousands of meteors the size of dust specks or grains of sand. Or horribly bigger, puncturing ones to endanger future space travelers.

Instruments for this first satellite are about perfected, a visit to the Naval Research Laboratory shows. Here the completed satellite balls are being assembled.

First, about that nickel of yours. . .

Congress has granted 39 million dollars of your money so far for the U. S. part of IGY global studies. About half is going for satellites.

But that's not all. The Department of Defense is in charge of developing and shooting the rockets to raise the moon. This involves indirect costs for the Navy, Air Force and Army. Universities also are spending funds designing many satellite instruments.

Even if the total satellite cost were 51 million, that still figures to a nickel for each of six satellites for every one of 170 million Americans, or 30 cents for the set of six.

Will it buy you anything worth while?

Scientists are convinced it will, paying tremendous dividends. It depends partly on how many little moons are flying successfully, and for how long.

So far, four different groups of experiments are planned, explains Dr. Homer E. Newell Jr., of NRL, science program coordinator for project Vanguard.

Group 1: Experiments will study rays from the sun, meteors, density of air in space, temperatures and pressures there, and shape of the earth.

Group 2: Cosmic rays and meteors.

Group 3: Magnetic fields around the earth, and air density.

Group 4: How much energy and heat come into and from the earth; or else a study of clouds over the earth to aid in weather predictions. Which study will be chosen is yet undecided.

Due to weight limits, each satellite can be rigged only for one group of studies. If the first shot fails, an identical moon will be fired again. If that fails, the third will be rigged for group 2 experiments, and so on.

If the first moon stays up, the second shot will be a group 2 satellite. All shots could possibly fail. Or the first four could all succeed. If so, scientists will pick other studies for the fifth and sixth moons.

Here's the why and how and progress report on the first two satellite designs:

The group 1 satellite will have a special window in its shell to look at the sun. It will measure and report the intensity of a particular kind of ultraviolet or sun-tan which are all soaked up by our own thick atmosphere and never reach the earth.

These rays exert a controlling influence on long-range radio communications on earth, and probably on climate trends, too. They might be pretty lethal to space travelers.

Space is full of tiny meteors. One estimate is that 1,000 tons of dust from "shooting stars" falls on earth daily. The dust perhaps helps ionize or electrify our upper air, could provide seeds for raindrop formation.

Four microphones inside the first moon will count these hits, broadcasting the interstellar score back to earth. Tiny ones won't puncture the shell.

The moon will have two hermetically sealed inner chambers filled with gas or "breath" under pressure. If a meteor belts through, gas will escape, and measuring devices will indicate where and how serious a hit. The moon's radio will tell about that.

Temperatures inside and outside the moon will be measured and reported. The moon will also tell about air density and shape of the earth.

The group 2 moon will have different gizzards, rigged to count how many cosmic rays it runs into, and where. It will store the cosmic ray count on a miniature tape recorder, and broadcast the knowledge when it passes over strategically located receiving stations on the earth below.

Radio voices inside the little moons, run by battery, are expected to last several weeks.

(Tomorrow: A moon that wears a hat. More about what satellites will do, and how.)

Bowling Green U. Expels 2 More Youths

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Two youths, awaiting grand jury action on charges of destroying property Saturday, have been expelled by Bowling Green State University.

The two, Russell Knoefel, 21, of Cleveland, and Charles Huston, 19, Monroe, Mich., are accused of trying to break into a house trailer owned by Richard Crom.

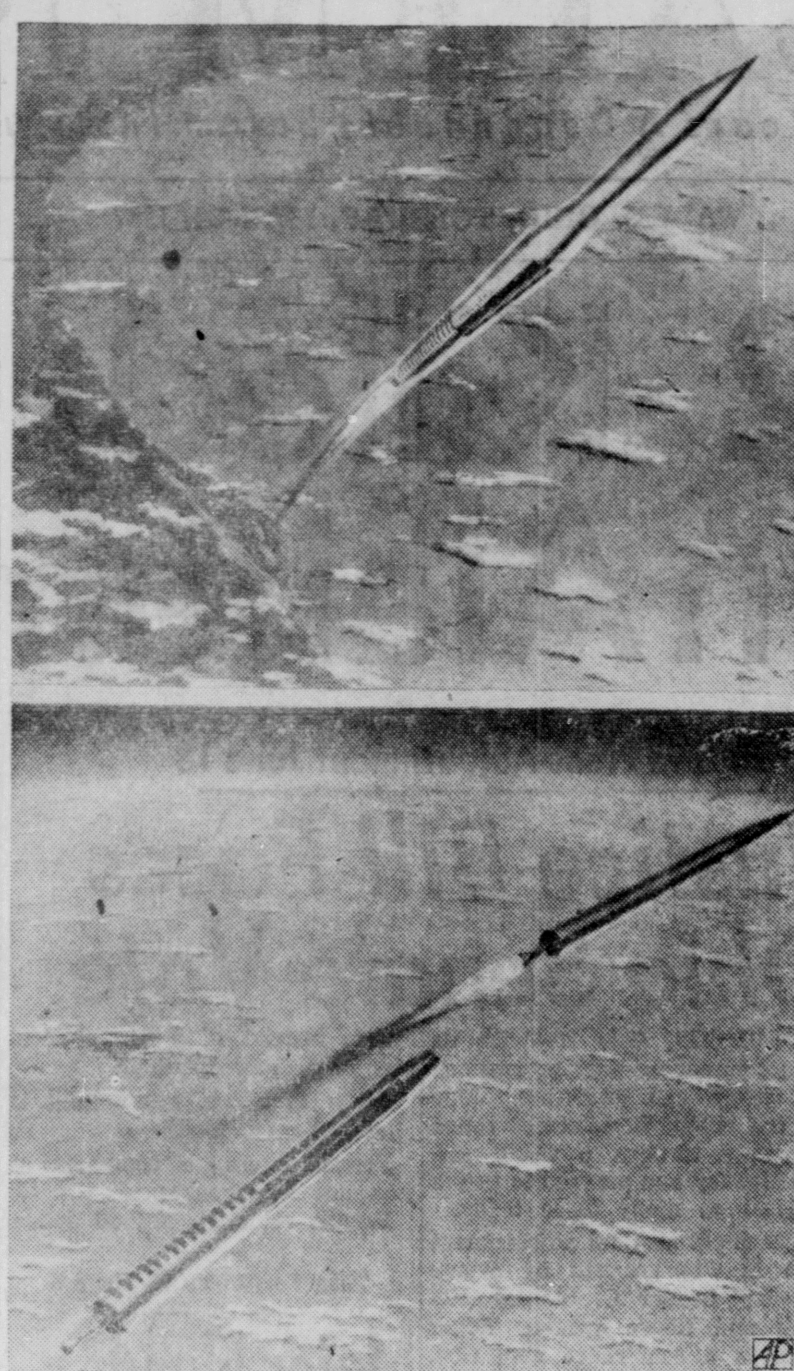

A third student, Everett Miller, 20, of Clyde, Ohio, was shot in the leg by Crom and was reported in fair condition at Wood County Hospital after the leg was amputated Monday.

Dean of Men Arch B. Conklin announced the dismissal of Knoefel and Huston immediately after hearings Monday when each was placed on $300 bail. They pleaded innocent to the charges.

The Saturday incident was not connected with the demonstration by about 1,500 students the previous day, authorities said.

STUDIES RED TRADE — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) is chairman of a new Senate Commerce subcommittee that will study the possibility of reopening of trade between the U.S. and Red China. Speaking in Washington, Magnuson said, "We can't keep 400 million people behind an economic bamboo curtain just because we don't like the policies of their government."

BOUND FOR SPACE — The 72-foot-long Vanguard rocket zooms skyward from its Florida launching platform, top drawing, and drops its first-stage rocket, bottom drawing, about 300 miles above earth in these artist's conceptions released by The Martin Company, builders of the rocket. The streamlined nose contains an instrument-package metal ball to be projected into outer space as an earth satellite to probe the mysteries of the universe.

Rescue Man Trapped In Abandoned Mine

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Trapped in the lonely depths of an abandoned mine, 50-year-old Cantrell Owens put his faith in God and sat down to pray.

He had walked into the shaft Saturday, looking for scrap copper. As he wound his way through, his miner's light went out.

"I began groping my way through the mine," he said. "The more I walked the more confused I became."

That's when he decided to pray and hope for the best.

Thanks to a sharp-eyed search party that spotted tobacco grains and some footprints, Owens was rescued from the pit Monday.

His only complaints were of mild hunger and a cough. After his wife notified authorities he was missing Sunday, the search party was organized. They explored more than a mile of the pit Sunday, but bad air forced them to give up.

They returned with oxygen masks Monday and found Owens about a mile and a half from the entrance.

SCHOOL VACATION — COMING RIGHT UP!

Turning the calendar leaf to June this week reminds us that there'll soon be a lot of boisterous young spirits bursting out of their school bonds. For those who are graduating, we would like to recommend a camera as a graduation gift, one that is matched to their age and the way they will use it. Here are some ideas.

For the grammar school graduate who has a summer of fun ahead of him, the new Brownie Starflash Camera is perfect. It's as easy to use as any Brownie, but it's the first Brownie Camera designed to take color slides as well as black-and-white snaps. And the flash unit is built right in.

For the high school graduate, we suggest a Brownie Movie Camera. It's a camera he will treasure and use for years — and best of all the low cost of 8mm film will fit right into a starting-work budget.

For the college graduate, the Kodak Signet 40 Camera would be an excellent choice. He can use it to take color slides for business or pleasure. And it has all the precision controls that can lead him into a life-long hobby.

While we're talking gifts, here's a reminder that Father's Day is coming up. Although he may protest modestly that he doesn't need a "special day" he deserves a fine new camera. Stop in soon, we will help you solve your gift problem with a "just-right" camera.

Now-see camera-eye proof Dodge trucks lead the low-priced 3!

Special cameras like this new high-speed Hulcher "70", designed to take rapid-sequence photos of guided-missile launchings, were used to record tests. Electrically operated, the Hulcher "70" shoots 20 pictures a second.

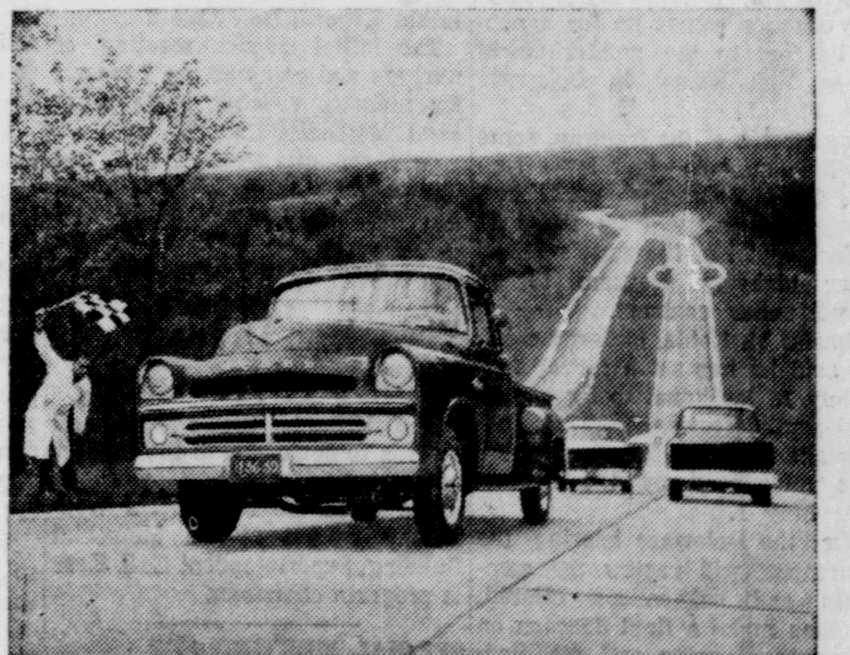

THEY'RE OFF! Here's the start of a grueling hill-climb test. All three low-priced trucks were lined up at the bottom of a test grade equal to the steepest hill in San Francisco. At flag drop, test drivers floor gas pedals . . . the Dodge Power Giant leaps out in front.

Actual road tests . . . like the one photographed at the right . . . prove beyond question that Dodge Power Giants outclass all competition. This rugged hill climb is just one of a whole string of tests comparing all three low-priced trucks.

See certified test results of the entire series — actual unretouched photographs — at your own local Dodge dealer's. These tests, plus 15 minutes behind the wheel, will demonstrate to you that today's Dodge Power Giants lead the low-priced three in every measure by which you judge a truck.

You get the most V-8 power of the low-priced three . . . up to 232 horsepower. This gives you snappier performance to save valuable trip time . . . extra power to take steep climbs with less engine strain. And Dodge gives you extra payload capacity, too. For instance, the test pick-up shown hauls as much as 27% more than the other two low-priced makes.

Check today's low Dodge prices. You'll find eleven Power Giant models, in the low-tonnage field alone, that are actually the lowest priced of the low-priced three. Why not see for yourself? Your dealer will gladly bring a Dodge right to your door.

DODGE THE WINNER BY FIVE LENGTHS—and still gaining! The Dodge Power Giant outdistanced both truck "C" and truck "F" from the start. This is just one of a complete series of actual road tests that prove Dodge the outstanding leader of the low-priced three.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel for the first time realize what a multi-million dollar business this is.

On or about June 15, Sen. John McClellan and his chief counsel, Bob Kennedy, will swear Shefferman in as a witness before the Senate Select Committee and begin asking him about the 450 to 500 companies he has as clients.

There is no precise figure, for Shefferman's personal labor relations "fix-it" business is so vast that even he is hazy about its extension into outer spaces.

But this man who bought almost $100,000 worth of stuff ranging from garden bushes to $3.50 bowties wholesale for Beck played anything but a hazy role in the life of this country.

UNKNOWN OUTSIDE labor circles until a few months ago, he has been a shadowy but powerful one-man octopus.

Shefferman's invisible empire sprawls across 29 states. He is most powerful behind the industrial scenes in Michigan. There he has, or had until recently, 121 companies as clients.

His shadow lay heavily across New York State where, from an office on East 40th Street in New York City, he handled, or handles today, 103 firms.

Oddly enough his influence reaches most strongly into Oklahoma next — with 35 clients there, and then into Texas, where 34 corporations hired him to handle labor relations.

In the other states, where trouble with the Teamsters was less likely, he had fewer clients. In some states he had only one businessman willing to pay him for advice.

Some of this advice consisted of telling his clients just how to live happily with their workers. But, this partner of Dave Beck, this man who carried Beck's messages and went on special missions for him, this man who supplied limousines for Teamster officials at conventions, this man to whom checks were made out from Teamster Union funds — devoted himself in large part, to advising clients how to keep unions out of their plants.

THESE CLIENTS, ranging from small tool shops and dry cleaning establishments to 100 million dollar firms, were mainly in what the Teamsters love to call their "jurisdiction." Yet these clients of this buddy of Dave Beck, Teamsters' Union president were not unionized.

All this may have been coincidence but the Senate committee knows all about the birds-and-the-bees facts of industrial life now.

It knows that Nate Shefferman drew money, for one reason or another — just as obscure — from the Western Conference of Teamsters; the Western Conference of Teamsters' Public Relations Office in Los Angeles, run for a while by the late Ray Leheny; from the Seattle Joint Council 28; Promotional League of the Teamsters; and the Joint Council 28 Legislative Fund.

And thousands of dollars from the International Teamsters Brotherhood in Washington.

Yet this man represented almost 500 firms with a total capital of several billion dollars. What, then, was his relationship with "The Wheel," Beck? What did Shefferman mean when he said: "My affiliation and association with him (Beck) helped to get considerable business."

What "considerable business"? THE SENATE committee will ask this of the labor relations consultant to employers.

How did it happen that this adviser to businessmen had so much power in the national office of the Teamsters Union that Beck used him as a liaison between himself and the Teamsters vice-presidents?

How could Shefferman, for example, step out of his business-man's role into the Teamsters high command so regularly that in some instances reports have it that he actually called meetings of the union's high council by telephone?

It was Shefferman, for example, whom Beck dispatched to Jim Hoffa last year to offer Hoffa the union's presidency if Hoffa would first help re-elect Beck and then wait six months for Beck to resign on grounds of ill health.

Hoffa, the ninth vice-president, told Shefferman to have Beck run his own errands.

What really was Beck's relationship to his wholesaler? Beck certainly did not need contacts with business firms for favors.

The Fruehauf people lent Beck their airplane and put a car and chauffeur at the disposal of Beck's niece for six weeks in Europe.

Why then did Beck and the multi-million dollar Shefferman work so closely — and on what?

Must Have Been After Big Game

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Whoever stole the gun from the College of Steubenville Sunday must have been after big game.

It was a 75 MM cannon of World War II vintage, which was displayed on a pedestal on the college's north campus.

First word that it had been stolen came from a startled motorist who saw a car towing the cannon up Ohio 7 towards Toronto.

The motorist, unidentified, called police.

Officers called the college to see if its cannon was missing, and, sure enough, it was.

The state highway patrol launched a search on Ohio 7 and found the cannon abandoned by the roadside about eight miles north of Steubenville.

It was back on its campus pedestal today.

Power Of The Presidency

President Eisenhower has been reluctant to use the full power of the presidency to attain his administrative goals. He has been exceptionally considerate of Congress.

In a political sense, he has been one of the "nice guys" of this world—the kind who never win, as Leo Durocher once said about another baseball manager who behaved like a gentleman.

But something has come over the President. It is evidenced by Washington reports that he now is using the influence of the White House to assert himself in the struggle with Congress over the balance of power. This essentially is what the battle of the budget is about; the money, itself, is incidental to members of Congress, although it is by no means incidental to taxpayers.

Congress has been using taxpayer resentment as a bludgeon against the presidency in a new phase of the oldest battle in U. S. government—the battle for dominant influence.

There is no way to avoid friction under the doctrine of balanced power. The balance is achieved by the endless interplay of public forces. The executive department is sometimes at war with the judiciary, sometimes with the legislature. The judiciary wars with the framers of laws and enforcers of law. The Congress endlessly seeks to curb the powers of the White House and the courts. Thus are the powers of the federal government balanced.

President Eisenhower has decided not to lose his tussle with Congress over budget-making by default. He will fight for his executive prerogatives. He will not be over-ruled by Congress without using all the powers of the White House in his own behalf—his power to make speeches, to threaten political reprisals, to withhold patronage and to bring local pressure to bear on the members of Congress.

The nation is watching political history in the making.

The Great Discovery

It now has been said at least a million times that Dave Beck is innocent until he is proved guilty and therefore he continues to be just as innocent as the next fellow.

But the great discovery of the Beck case and all the other cases of men whose involvement with funds belonging to the Teamsters Union have come to light is this:

Guilt before the law in matters of moral trust is only the final state in gradations of guilt in the eyes of men.

To show how this works, the late Al Capone became guilty in the eyes of the law only when he failed to defend himself successfully against the charge of income tax evasion. But long before that happened — long before Capone became a national symbol of lawlessness — he was not innocent in the eyes of men of charges of shocking misbehavior.

Standing on the letter of the law and insisting that the only way to establish the fact of moral guilt is by a verdict of legal guilt has become a favorite dodge of those who live outside both the law and the moral code.

Men who betrayed the trust that had been put in them, voluntarily and involuntarily by millions of men who paid dues to the Teamsters Union may or may not be brought to legal trial for their behavior. But they already have been brought to moral trial and found not innocent.

To Know Us Etc.

No moral should be drawn from the demonstration against Americans in Formosa. Perhaps none can be drawn, because any American who does not know by this time that Americans are resented abroad has not been keeping posted.

Not all foreigners resent Americans at the same time, or at the same rate of resentment. But wherever Americans are conspicuously present and especially where they are necessarily present as they are in Formosa, their presence is resented by a portion of the population.

It has been a long time since any American could believe with a good conscience that for foreigners to know Americans is to love them; the opposite is more likely to be true. It has nothing to do with individual Americans but with Americans in the mass as symbols of a nation so powerful that all nations not aligned with the Soviet Union must look to the United States for security.

Human beings do not love the owner of the hand that feeds them; they never have loved it. There is a strain in human nature which makes dependency a hateful plight.

The Formosans who rioted against a handful of symbolic Americans and created an international incident were wrong, of course. But Americans as a whole cannot blame them for doing what comes naturally. If the United States depended on Formosans for its existence, a Formosan in Washington, D.C., never could be sure of his safety from "demonstrators."

It's very easy to be a failure when you insist on thinking the worst things in life are the best.

Myopic Congressmen

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Cutting of Propaganda Fund Seen As Blunder

It is not too soon to appraise the place in history that the Democratic-controlled Congress of today may achieve if it pursues its present course. It could become known as the Congress without a heart and without a spirit — the Congress that strained at a gnat and swallowed a camel.

For the biggest concern of the world today is war. To prevent war the American people are willing to make money sacrifices now to avoid human sacrifices later on. The way to prevent war is to reach the hearts and minds of the people behind the iron curtain and to be adequately prepared on the military side.

Armament costs us around 40 billion dollars a year and is necessary to deter impulsive action by dictators. Yet propaganda to influence and persuade the peoples in Eastern Europe, Asia and Africa to withhold from dictators the power to make war is relatively inexpensive.

Soviet Russia today spends many billions a year on propaganda. America spends just a few millions. But the President's request for 144 million dollars for the U. S. Information Agency may, under proposals now pending in Congress, be cut down to 90 million dollars.

THE MYOPIC reason given for this is that the latter sum is more than the average spent by the U. S. Information Agency in the last few years.

This is to say that the world has stood still, that the importance of reaching the hearts and minds of people behind the iron curtain and in the so-called "uncommitted" areas of the world can be averaged mathematically by looking backward instead of forward.

Actually, the situation in the Middle East, for example, has grown more, instead of less, complicated. Today the Soviet government influences, if it doesn't completely control, the press and radio of Egypt and Syria.

These trouble areas can increase in number overnight. The United States, by means of the Eisenhower doctrine, has built up its friendships and is making progress among some of the Arab states but it costs money to carry on propaganda.

There are all sorts of self-appointed experts in America who have called attention to some examples of waste and inefficiency in the U. S. Information Agency. Certainly the American government is a novice in the art of propaganda. Mistakes have been inevitable. But they are the price of experience in an unfamiliar field.

JUDGING BY the statements made by the Democratic leaders in Congress, they have cut appropriations for the U. S. Information Agency to some extent because of a fear that American news services might be deprived of opportunities to sell their wares abroad.

This is understandable materialism but at the same time it is shortsighted Americanism. For Soviet Russia doesn't permit the daily reports of the American news services to be printed behind the iron curtain.

Nor are there any radio broadcasting stations inside the United States that can reach behind the iron curtain without effective relays abroad.

It takes a special kind of equipment and transmitters, located in strategic places around the world, to get the messages across to the peoples in vast areas of the globe where either the normal commercial channels are barred or media are unavailable through which to present news dispatches from outside the country.

The Soviets are spending billions for documentary films, for participation in exhibits and fairs everywhere, for "cultural" exchanges.

THEY SEND their ballet and other artistic groups to "neutral" lands but when America tries to courtier this with our jazz orchestras — which have recently won wide acclaim, especially in certain parts of Europe and in north Africa and in southeast Asia — the critics in Congress ridicule it all as a "boondoggle."

Thereupon the Democrats cut the U. S. Information Agency's budget to pieces, with the aid of an equally narrow-visioned segment of the Republican party.

The speakers for the Democratic party in the last campaign used to talk a lot about the need for "challenging ideas" abroad and kept hammering away at the "mistakes" of our foreign policy. But success cannot be achieved by the State Department through diplomacy alone if the ground is not cultivated among peoples abroad by effective information programs telling continually about America's disinterested purposes and her true concern for the freedom and independence of all those peoples now enslaved.

The U. S. Information Agency's budget should have been doubled instead of being cut by almost 40 per cent.

IT IS CERTAINLY a reversal of the trend when from the so-called "humanitarians," the "forward-looking," the "broad-visioned" Democrats comes the sabotage which has all but wrecked America's effort to expand her information programs to reach the hearts and minds of people abroad.

It is a crushing blow to the broad concept of psychological warfare so necessary to prevent the warfare of death and destruction.

It is a defeat for America in the "cold war," inflicted not by Soviet Russia but by members of the Congress of the United States.

Passport Sabotage

By DOROTHY McCARDLE

Listen, Mrs. Housewife, you are now the number one American traveler abroad. But you give more headaches to the United States Passport Office than all the men put together!

Last year 56 per cent of all Americans crossing the Atlantic or the Pacific were women. Lots of students, many secretaries and clerks. But mostly U.S. housewives, reports Miss Frances Knight, director of the passport division of the State Department.

What kind of trouble does the woman give? You might guess that it would concern her age!

Naturally, the passport of all Americans must state the date of birth. Credit — or discredit — milady for trying to get around this by asserted feminine wiles. Just by chance, a dab of lipstick or drop of nail polish or a grease smudge or a cigarette burn hits milady's passport right at this important date.

She may be sorry, warns Miss Knight, because such passport mutilation can make it entirely worthless! She'll need a new one!

What else does the woman traveler do in this aspirin age? The questions she asks:
Of all places, she quizzes the overworked clerks at the passport office on the weather in Siam or England or Italy and what clothes she'll need for her travels. Then, too, she has been known to ask the harassed passport staff for advice on where to store her furniture.

One other kind of trouble is also caused by the Men. Both men and women often turn their passports into a notebook, complains Miss Knight.

The women jot down dress, shirt, glove sizes. The men — addresses and telephone numbers of the pretty girls they meet!

"The passport is not a scrapbook or a notebook," says Miss Knight.

All this mounts up into a great deal of trouble for the passport division when one learns that there are some 800,000 passports issued every year to American travelers going overseas.

Right now is the big rush. Last month alone, all time monthly figures were topped when 82,000 passports were issued in April.

Since she took over the passport office two years ago, Miss Knight has already cut down the time it takes to get a passport. Two years ago it took six weeks. Last year it took three weeks. This year it is taking four days to a week.

Already Miss Knight is looking forward to the jet age when she predicts a million annual travelers from the U.S. to foreign countries.

An awful lot of money will be spent for bathing suits when you consider what the gals will have to show for it.

Burden Of Proof On AFL-CIO

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO has laid the groundwork for keeping its member unions and their officers honest and democratic. That shows good intentions. But two questions remain unanswered.

How hard will the AFL-CIO work at cleaning its own house? And can it really do a good job without action by Congress in the form of new laws to guard the money and interests of rank-and-file union members?

The AFL and CIO, when they merged in 1955, wrote into their constitution machinery for investigating wrongdoing by unions and their officers and for suspending and expelling them.

That was done before the nation was shocked this year by the Senate Rackets Committee's disclosures involving the Teamsters Union and the handling of its funds by its president, Dave Beck.

Those disclosures gave the AFL-CIO added reason for doing its own cleaning earnestly or facing the prospect of having the federal government do it.

But unionists play politics among themselves. And, like politicians, they are bound to have respect for size and numbers.

Investigating and throwing out a small union is neither difficult nor shattering. Taking the initiative against a giant union requires more guts.

The AFL-CIO did not begin its investigation of Beck's Teamsters, biggest union of all, until the Senate committee's revelations made such an investigation inescapably necessary.

If a Senate committee was needed to tell the AFL-CIO what was going on in Beck's union, what reason is there to believe it will be any more perceptive or active against some other big union until it is forced to be?

That is why burden of proof is on the AFL-CIO to show it means business permanently when it asserts, through a series of well-sounding statements, its determination to do its own police work.

The key instrument in the AFL-CIO constitution for ferreting out corrupt or undemocratic practices in its union is the Executive Council.

This council is composed of top officials from the member unions, which have traditionally resented outside prying into their affairs. It is the real power in the AFL-CIO.

The constitution says this council, when requested to do so by President George Meany, or any council member, can investigate corruption or bad practices in a member union.

In addition, it can hold hearings and order a union's suspension. Only the annual convention can vote to expel.

But in a resolution which it adopted in January the council pointed out one serious limitation on its ability to bring corruption to light.

The AFL-CIO does not have subpoena power. Legislative committees and law enforcement agencies, which do have such power, can compel the appearance of witnesses and production of records under penalty of punishment for refusing.

Last week the council fired Beck from its list of vice presidents. It also suspended the small Laundry Workers Union and gave two other small unions, the Industrial and Distillery Workers, a choice between suspension and probation.

A Senate committee exposed welfare fund abuses in those two unions two years ago and the council was not satisfied with their efforts to clean up. Last week's action was the strongest taken by the AFL-CIO since its merger two years ago.

Puzzling Paradox

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — How personal incomes can go on climbing to a record high while the production of goods slips back to the level of last fall is shown today in two government reports.

What looks like a puzzling paradox is perhaps just a shift in our way of living and in our way of thinking about government policies and industrial labor trends.

About half of the latest rise in personal incomes is due to increased government payments to individuals. Much of the rest comes from rising wage scales.

Almost all of the latest dip in industrial output is due to cutbacks in production of durable goods. Included are slowdown in the auto, machinery, steel and other metal industries.

Output of nondurable consumer goods, on the other hand, has risen to a new high and the construction industry has recovered from its March dip.

Some of the shift in our way of living doubtless is temporary. Consumer buying swings back and forth between the durables like autos and household appliances and the nondurable like clothing and gasoline.

But part of the shift is long-term. The service industries have been growing even faster than the production industries. People have been adding to their accumulation of goods, but even more have they stepped up their demand for the countless services that now make up our standards of living.

And the increase in government payments to individuals for various reasons has been steady over the years.

The Commerce Department, which reports on personal income totals each month, says that in April it reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 339.4 billion dollars, a record, and 18.4 billion higher than this time last year. The gain from this March was 1.4 billion dollars.

That half of that one-month rise represents increased government payments is because old-age benefits have increased. The department notes that farm-rs and others recently covered by social security are now becoming eligible in large numbers for benefit payments. Also old-age payments to women is up because a change in the law permits women to retire at 62 instead of 65.

Wage and salary totals in April rose by 50 million dollars over March. While employment was off in some factories, it increased in other lines. And in some industries wage scales advanced, boosting the total. For example: 80 cents more a day for bituminous coal miners.

Although the output of coal fell in April, the total payroll went up, dollars in April. But various government reports show that farm income fell 10 million dollars from March. Farm prices and to maintain the soil bank are expected to help keep farm income for this year as high or higher than last.

Hopes For Record

NEW YORK (AP) — The air conditioning industry enters its big selling season with hopes of setting its eighth straight sales and output record. Its two chief fears: a cool summer and a continuing lag in home building.

As for profits—that troublesome problem of recent years—the remaining companies and dealers in the field hope for better days.

In the fast growing postwar years the industry made more coolers than there were customers to go around. Inventory gluts and price cutting led a number of makers to drop out.

Total retail volume in 1956 for industrial, commercial and home air conditioning came to three billion dollars. Industry spokesmen hope for at least 3½ billion this year.

The Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute puts sales of room units at 1,600,000 last year and central cooling systems for homes at 150,000 units. It looks for a record this year for central cooling, but admits the disturbing dip in home building is a factor.

Cloud Wampler, chairman of Carrier, estimates some 250,000 central systems should be sold this year.

The industry as a whole hopes to sell two million room coolers. Technicians work at making air conditioners smaller, cheaper and quieter. They also are perfecting them to control odors, remove bacteria, block smog, and foil allergic substances.

The institute says that purchasers should get a break this year because 22 manufacturers of room units have agreed to publish capacity ratings of their products in terms of British Thermal Units (the amount of cooling capacity needed to lower the temperature of one pound of water by one degree at sea level).

This gives the buyer a standard of comparison, instead of the confusing ratings by horsepower, tons or evaporation equivalent formerly used.

No Biz Like Show Biz

(Coney Island is the new home of New York's famed Aquarium, for generations visited by tourists.)—News item.

Oh, fish engaged for Coney Isle, Will you absorb the midway style? Do you say as performers should "Well, anyhow, my billing's good"? Can you think under rock and fern "My public is my main concern"? Will you resent this routine new Or does "show biz" appeal to you? I wonder walrus plump, and seal, How Coney Islandish you feel. . . Oh, tortoise, shark and halibut Do you, contented, say, "So what!" And hold, with privacy all gone, "The show, as always, must go on"? Do you inquire "in the drink," "I wonder what the critics think?" I'm asking, barriecuda, how You'll learn to take a kindly bow And if you yearn (the truth to tell) To bite the nearest carousel? Gray shark, have you a yen to see Your act caught by "Variety," And penguin, waddling in the gravel, Will you make with "HAVE TUX; WILL TRAVEL"? Electric eel and moray green, How do you like the hectic scene? Do you yearn for some agent smart To book you for a Broadway part? And alligators (Joe and Alice), Have you a yen to play the "Palace"? Oh, spawning fish, tell me, I beg, Is your great fear you'll lay an egg?

WE WONDER if Mike Wallace felt a few cold shivers run through him on that TV program when Mickey Cohen said, "I only killed in self-defense" in the midst of Mike's aggressive questioning.

One of these days you are going to hear of a witness somewhere getting the question, "Are you taking the Fifth Amendment?" and replying upon advice of his lawyer, "I refuse to answer under the Fifth Amendment."

The AFL and CIO merged bodies have dropped Dave Beck from their executive council. . . We wonder if he refused to answer the question, "Would you mind closing the door gently as you leave?"

There's a report that Mr. Beck and his attorney, at lunch during a hearing recess, were heard to order clam chowder, hush-puppies and iced tongue. . . Requesting the orchestra to play Mozart's "Fifth Symphony."

Then there's the story that in his sleep Dave is heard singing, "I Wonder Who's Quizzing Me Now."

IT IS STARTLING to enter Madison Square Garden and find it packed with people who don't reflect a major interest in pugs, hockey players, prize poodles, fancy skaters or wrestlers. . . All these familiar Garden figures fade away as religion takes over, packing the great arena with folks who suggest the family and the home.

The familiar faces of top politicians, Broadway stars, gambling notables, night clubbers, sports celebrities and characters famed in the underworld are not there.

The crowd is now a folksy one and one is struck by the serious demeanors and the deep interest in a matter far removed from water buckets, taped hands, and the thud of fists.

"Look at this crowd! Not a cauliflower ear in the house!"

One might say, "It is a strange thing to see an evangelist gripping the Garden and hear the arena echoing with references to God, the apostles, the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount."

CLEO F. CRAIG, for years head of A. T. & T. and more recently chairman of the board, is retiring ahead of time at 64, although he could stay until next April. Probably wants to get away from the telephone. . . But 64 is too young and obviously should be classified as a wrong number.

Looking Backward

Atomic Training

By HAL BOYLE

FORT RILEY, Kan. (AP) — Here on vast rolling plains where it trained some of its greatest military heroes, the U. S. Army is engaging in mock battles of a new kind of war — atomic war.

The experiments going on here would amaze some of those past cavalry heroes — "Jeb" Stuart, George Custer, George Patton, Jonathan ("Skinny") Wainwright.

They are also a bit confusing to some of the present heroes here — infantrymen, tankmen and artillerymen trying to puzzle out the role of ground forces on an atomic battlefield.

As one officer put it: "No one ever really fought on an atomic battlefield. We have to feel our way."

But enthusiasm and morale are high among the soldiers of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division. "The big red one," which was picked to lead the Army's new pentomic organization.

The division, now led by Maj. Gen. David H. Buchanan, of Marion, Va., an officer with a fine combat and staff record, still has on its rolls 26 veterans from the second world war, during which it was in action 443 days and took more than 100,000 prisoners.

The division has been streamlined down from a peak of 17,500 men to about 13,000. Its three regiments, under the new pentomic organization, have been succeeded by five heavily supported battle groups.

Some of the oldtimers wept openly a few months ago, during a colorful ceremony at which the colors of the division's three famous old regiments — the 16th, 18th and 26th — were struck, perhaps forever.

"But under the new organization we have gained a lot in terms of firepower and great mobility," said Co. William O. Cunningham

III, who once commanded the 18th regiment and is now division chief of staff.

Recently a public demonstration of the new tactics was put on before a group of impressed Kansas editors by troops commanded by Col. Howard B. St. Clair of Beckley, W. Va. They were flown to the scene in "choppers" (helicopters), which seem to have taken over many of the jeep's roles in the new Army.

A sudden cloud suddenly mushroomed skyward from a small hill, symbolizing an atomic explosion launched against the entrenched enemy. After a heavy bombardment by artillery and mortar shell, the scattered tanks and doughboys began to converge on the objective.

Flickers of little red flame flared in the distance...under the immortal star sweating tiny figures of men moved forward in the immortal way of infantry... little dots of purpose on the immense uncarving earth.

In half an hour a signal flare streaked a wavering signal of colored smoke up from the green and brown hill... the most welcome news in war: "objective taken!"

Will the new pentomic organization work so well if there should come a real war again? No one can tell. Today everything is experimental.

But Capt. Bob Rollier of Lake Placid, N. Y., one of the most decorated soldiers of the last war, said soberly:

"We're training under both old and new conditions—attacks in which we use atomic shells and attacks in which we don't."

TWO JUVENILES PENALIZED

LISBON — Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at a hearing Monday afternoon, fined two East Liverpool youths, aged 15 and 16, $10 and $25, respectively, for stealing their grandmother's automobile and driving it to Lisbon where they were picked up by village police.

The youths also were placed under a 6 p.m. curfew until school starts, ordered to attend church and to report to a juvenile officer each week at East Liverpool.

They must earn the money to pay their fines, Judge Tobin said.

"OUT OF THE FRYING PAN..." Ever pop some eggs into a frying pan and have something like this happen? In this case, the H. Melvin Bush family of Seattle didn't expect a sunny-side-up order. Fourteen-year-old Ricky Bush found a Mallard hen's eggs on a lake shore after the hen's nest had toppled down an embankment. The Bush family put them in the pan, set the temperature at 101 degrees and waited. The eggs are shown hatching five cute little ducklings. "We hope there is no 2 a.m. feedings," says Mrs. Bush.

Veterans Guide

(By Veterans Administration)

Q — I applied to VA for an increase in my disability compensation rating. I was supposed to report for a physical examination, and completely forgot about it. What do I do now?

A — Since you failed to appear for your physical examination, VA has no choice but to consider your claim "abandoned." You will have to file another application if you still believe you're entitled to an increased rating.

Q — I am working for my master's degree under the Korean GI Bill. One of my required graduate courses calls for an undergraduate course as a prerequisite, but my school does not offer this undergraduate course. Would I be allowed to take this course in another school?

A — Yes, so long as your school specifically designates to VA the course which is to be taken at the second school, and will accept its credits at full value in partial fulfillment of your degree program.

Q — I am a disabled veteran receiving vocational rehabilitation training. I've had some particularly heavy expenses in the last months, and I am hard pressed for cash. Is there any provision under which VA can lend me the money?

A — Yes. There is a special loan fund for disabled veteran-trainees. You may borrow up to $100 from this fund, at no interest.

Total cost of all accidents in the U.S. in 1956 would build a new merchant fleet with 200 ships the size of the Queen Mary.

Entertainers Bare Lives To Graham

NEW YORK (AP) — "Troubled souls" of fast-paced New York City—night club dancers, stage actors and desk-chained career men—are seeking out Billy Graham these days to bare their tales of frustration.

"They're sick inside," Graham said. They catch him at many times, at many places, and they grab his arm, and start pouring out their stories. He's found them waiting outside his hotel room, or they snag him in a lobby or corridor.

Each is a case history in human disillusionment, and they form a poignant sidelight to Graham's New York crusade, where thousands are listening to his advice nightly — 16,500 of them Monday night at Madison Square Garden.

Graham said the problem is that the individuals have become "spiritually dead. Why? Because their souls haven't been in contact with Christ, and until it is, their souls are dead."

He said he had found this condition with many film and Broadway personalities who have sought him out—"They seek peace, joy and happiness, but they don't have it. They seek it the wrong way."

In his sermon Monday night, Graham used Exodus 20:1-5, concerning the First Commandment: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." It was the first of a series of Graham sermons on the commandments.

Program Marks Dedication Of Masonic Temple Organ

Local and visiting members of Masonic Orders and the Eastern Star presented a program of music at the organ dedication Saturday night in the Masonic Temple.

Following a prelude by Mrs. Howard Firestone, organist of Salem Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Russell Myers, the worthy matron, gave a welcoming address. John Keher, chaplain of Perry Lodge, gave the invocation. Hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Great is Thy Faithfulness," were played by Stallo Bailey of the Salem Commandery Knights Templar. Dixie Wilde of Job's Daughters entertained with popular selections.

Other numbers on the program were: Organ and piano duet, Mrs. Firestone and Mrs. Wilbur Schurmerberger of the O.E.S., Schuman's "Concertino Poetic." Quartet, Mrs. G. T. Harding, Mrs. Rolin Herron, Mrs. J. W. Townsend, Mrs. Vance McBane, "Sing Every Voice," and "In The Garden," accompanied by Dixie Wilde.

Classical selection, "Finale," by Fauchey, Mrs. Don Liber of the Homeworth Chapter, grand organist of the Grand Chapter of Ohio.

Vocal selections by Harry Jones of Canton Chapter 190, O.E.S., and member of O.E.S. Chorus of Grand Chapter of Ohio, "Is Not This the Fast That I Have Chosen" by MacDermid; "Organ Medley," Mrs. Charles Snelvel.

Presentation of the organ to the Temple Board, Virgil Edgerton, senior trustee of O.E.S.; acceptance by Myron Kelly, president of the Temple Board; remarks by Arthur Johnston, secretary of the Temple Board; closing remarks, R. G. Beck.

Mrs. Stroh Caldwell Jr. and Mr. Beck, co-chairmen of the event, were assisted by Mrs. Myron Riegel, and Arthur Johnston.

A.I.A. AFTER ARCHITECT'S NAME YOUR ASSURANCE OF COMPETENCE

100-Year-Old Organization of Practicing Professionals

When you retain an architect to design a building, you'll probably find that he's a member of the American Institute of Architects. The majority of the nation's registered architects belong—with pride.

The A.I.A. is not a fraternal or social organization—for 100 years it has been performing the highly responsible job of helping to make America a better place to live through better architecture.

The organization was born in 1857, when 12 New York architects formed a nucleus of what soon became their professional body. Other individuals were later invited to join—and other regional groups—until today the A.I.A. includes over 10,500 registered architects representing 127 local chapters and numerous state chapters throughout the United States and its possessions. In addition, there are 41 student chapters for architects-to-be.

In 1900, national headquarters were established at The Octagon, the Washington, D. C., structure that once served as official residence for President Madison.

The scope of A.I.A. interests has increased gradually through the years, until today, on the national level, it has 75 different committees at work on various advisory and study projects. These committees, for example, offer recommendations on civil defense measures in hospitals, schools, and other buildings; are concerned with the preservation of historical buildings; urban design and housing; and product research. One of the most important jobs now underway for the A.I.A. is its work with the Building Research Advisory Board, studying the design of laboratories and other structures in which radioactive materials are or will be in use.

It's on the local level, however, that the average person benefits most directly from A.I.A. activities.

The typical local chapter—including the one serving Eastern Ohio—has numerous committees which cooperate with civic bodies in such matters as neighborhood planning, community improvement, building codes, zoning, traffic, and recreational facilities. It also offers pre-college advisory service to aspiring architects, provides scholarships for advanced study, keeps members up to date on new materials and methods, and awards honors to practicing architects to stimulate better design.

The Institute also is active in protecting the public against unethical or untrained practitioners. Just as the young doctor must serve a specified term as intern, so the prospective architect must show not only educational fitness, but also a term of years—usually three—of practical experience in an architect's office. If the candidate lacks his degree from an approved architectural school (which now means successfully completing a five-year course in college or university), most states will accept a much longer period of practical experience, usually 12 years.

All such safeguards against inexperienced or otherwise incompetent practitioners have come about through the continued efforts of the A.I.A. to maintain the practice of architects on the highest professional plane.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Migraine Headaches

Several inquiries have been received recently for another discussion of migraine headaches, and one in particular asks whether there is anything new.

I do not know of anything dramatically "new" in the treatment of migraine headaches, but the understanding of them and the people who have them, has been improved in recent years.

The first step is to make sure that the headaches are truly of the "migraine" type and not some other form of recurring headache.

One clue is the fact that most of those with migraine headaches develop peculiar feelings or sensations several hours before the headache begins. These peculiar feelings may be of various kinds, such as visions of animals, excessive hunger or acute depression. The individual victim will usually have the same, or nearly the same, premonitory signs before each attack.

The headache is likely to start gradually but gets worse, spreads over greater areas of the head and is usually one-sided. Those who have severe attacks may be incapacitated for a day or more.

Innumerable drugs and other treatments have been tried for migraine. Some of them are helpful, particularly if started just before the headache begins.

However, as stated in a splendid article on this subject: "Nothing out of the bottle will offer more than passing relief. Cure must be brought about by the patient himself, guided by his doctor."

A migraine victim is usually advised to reduce the workday in length. He or she should be sure to obtain sufficient rest. The 50-year-old should not work as he did when 30 years younger.

Another suggestion is to avoid needless worry. Worry is surely a waste of time. Most people realize this, but often they do not understand how much they can do for themselves by training themselves out of such a habit.

The standards of work and play may need changing. This applies particularly to resentment or anxiety caused by situations over which the migraine victim has no control.

Another recommendation is that one should develop fuller tolerance for other people. This is all part of developing a philosophy toward life which will make one's own daily affairs as much in harmony with what goes on outside as is possible.

All this points up the fact that there is no easy cure for migraine. But much can be done to lessen the frequency and the discomfort of migraine attacks.

Carl Gambles to Hold Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Gamble of Floding Road will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday with open house from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Carl Gamble and the former Betty Gorbey were married June 2, 1932 in West Virginia.

The affair is being arranged by their six children, Mrs. Donald Weaver of Winona, Mrs. Homer Althouse of RD 2, Salem, John, Richard, David and Kenneth at home. There are two grandchildren, Mark and Michelle Weaver. No invitations have been issued, but all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Hansell Is Tapped For Honor Society

Sanford I. Hansell of Salem, a student at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass., has been tapped for Gargoyles, senior honor society at the college.

A member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity and editor of the Williams Record, undergraduate newspaper, Hansell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Hansell of Salem. Vice president of the college band and treasurer of the college Jewish Association, he is also active in the Purple Knights and WMS, the college radio station.

West Township Arranges For Memorial Day

The West Township Memorial Association exercises will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 in Moultrie Cemetery west of Chambersburg.

The first portion of the afternoon program will be held outside with a march to decorate the graves of veterans highlighted with remarks by Donald Stafford.

The Gettysburg Address will be repeated by Karen Sue Whitacre; and "In Flanders Field" will be recited by Charles Stevens.

A firing squad from the Minerva post of the American Legion will give a salute and taps will be played by Regina Granger and Robert Livingston.

At the program which will follow inside the Moultrie Cemetery chapel, Atty. Frank Beane, tenth district commander of the American Legion, will be the principal speaker.

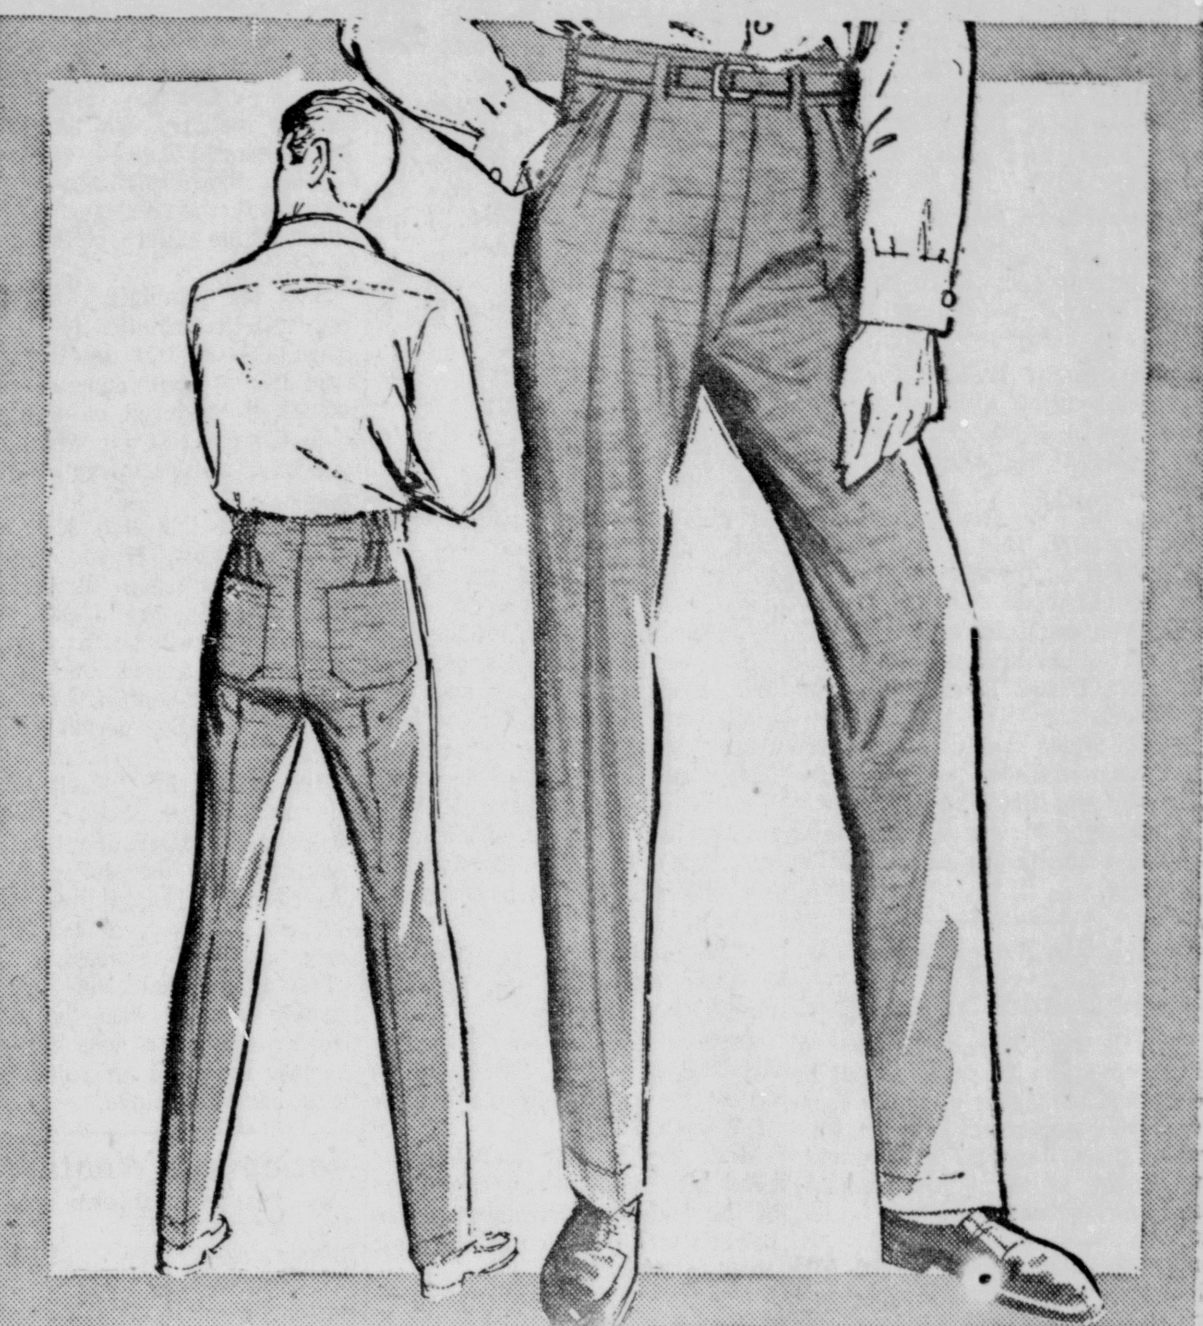

Rev. Gilmore, pastor of the East Rochester Methodist Church, will give the invocation; while Rev. Stevens, pastor of the New Alexander Methodist Church, will offer the benediction.

The National Anthem, presented by the West Local School Band, will conclude the program. The band also will play selections during the program.

The Memorial Association committee in charge of arrangements includes Victor Bates, president, Carl Evans, vice president, William Baxter, treasurer, Hill Hartman, secretary, and Robert Cogan, Donald Stafford, Robert Boord, Walter Whiteleather and Eugene Smythe.

Pretty cake decoration: melt half of a square of unsweetened chocolate with half a teaspoon of butter or margarine over hot water; dip pink mints (each about the size of a quarter) into the chocolate so the candies are half covered. Stick the mints around the edge of a chocolate frosted cake to give them a pink-and-brown border.

Pickets

Marshall County Jail: Ed Bonner, a union organizer, has been charged with carrying a concealed weapon. The others are being held without charge pending further investigation.

Rifles, pistols and dynamite were seized.

Most seriously wounded in the shooting at the plant was Russell William Smith, 52, an official of the construction company.

Others hospitalized were Glenn Mathis, Parsons, Kan.; William Humphrey, Kiowa, Kan., superintendent of construction; and Theodore Leon Doyle, 28, Greenville, Miss. Two others were less seriously hurt.

Picketing Since May 20

Some construction workers had been picketing since May 20. They were seeking recognition of the UMW as bargaining agent.

The shooting broke out as several cars filled with workers approached a barricade of railroad ties before the entrance to the plant.

Mrs. J. T. Cunningham, who lives nearby, said "The shooting broke out as these cars drove up to the barricade. I called the police. You could hear the bullets."

Mrs. Cunningham said the shooting lasted for possibly five minutes.

Gulf States said no demands had been made on owners of the firm by the UMW members. Approximately 50 workers had been reported at the project before the shooting.

important to the defense of the United States and the free world."

The fireball of today's device did not touch the desert floor beneath the disintegrated steel tower. This eliminated the great mass of radioactive dirt which in past tests has been sucked into the air.

As a result, the Nevada Test Organization said fallout in the area surrounding the test site would be minimized.

As the mushroom cloud lost its shape and drifted over the Nevada wastelands, helicopters buzzed over the landscape taking radioactivity readings. On the ground test personnel moved quickly in to check their instruments.

As usual, the AEC gave no indication of the nature of the device tested.

The 14 remaining observers from North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) nations and a hand full of civil defense representatives clustered on a hillside to watch the test for which they had been waiting more than two weeks.

This was the 46th shot fired from this testing ground since the United States began its series of atomic experiments in 1951.

This series will be the most extensive ever held in Nevada from the standpoint of the number of shots and the period of time covered.

The AEC said: "Each test of this series has been carefully evaluated to determine that it is necessary for the overall objective of strengthening the military and civil defense of the United States and the free world."

Test officials said they were extremely pleased with the results because the fallout was limited to the test area and an adjacent air force bombing range.

Lisbon To Buy New Stop Light

Discussion Centered On City Improvement

LISBON — Council last night authorized the purchase of a new stop light to be placed at the intersection of Market and Jerome Streets, which is the junction of State Routes 45, 164 and 517.

The purchase price was estimated at $700 and the light was authorized by the state highway department.

Council also passed an ordinance for the payment of cemetery board of trustees to receive $5 per meeting they attend. The meetings during one year cannot exceed 24. Trustees include Mrs. Vincent Judge, Felix Butch and Raymond Reese.

Second reading was given to an ordinance about unlicensed drivers operating motor vehicles. The first reading of an ordinance concerning downspouts on newly constructed buildings with relation to sanitary sewers was also read.

A detailed report on the heating situation in village hall will be ready for the next meeting, reports Council President Sam Cosma. Council also voted to transfer the 6-volt siren on the police cruiser to the township fire truck. Police have purchased a 12-volt siren for their new cruiser.

The sidewalk committee told council they recommended surveying Spruce and Pritchard Ave. so that home owners could put in sidewalks if they wished. Council authorized the survey.

Fred Rose and Harry Lederle requested the curbing and black-top paving on some of the streets in the North Park Place addition. Council referred this request to the street's committee. Council also authorized the opening of Pendleton Street and suggested that slag be placed on it along with Garfield and Summit Streets.

The Garden Club requested that the village mow weeds in vacant lots, repair bad sidewalks, clean up all alleys of ashes, cans, tree limbs and other debris and to place more paper receptacles on the streets to keep them clean.

The purchase of a new siren for volunteer firemen was tabled until the next meeting.

The Rev. Paul Gerrard, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, opened the meeting with prayer. The next meeting will be June 10.

ward flood stage from Chester, Ill., to Cape Girardeau in eastern Missouri.

Floodwaters covered an estimated 100,000 acres in delta land between the Mississippi and St. Francis rivers in southeast Missouri.

Some Rivers Receding
In Oklahoma, some rivers were reported receding, but still were near bankful.

Wide areas of precipitation were reported during the night and early morning across the country.

Isolated thunderstorms and showers hit sections from eastern New Mexico and Texas northward into the Dakotas. Heaviest amounts were in areas from western Nebraska southward through the Texas Panhandle.

Showers and thundershowers were expected to continue during the day from Texas northward into the Dakotas and into the northern and central Rockies.

But generally clear skies were indicated in other areas.

Cool air spread eastward from the central part of the country and extended over most of the eastern sections from the Great Lakes region southward to the Gulf and eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Temperatures ranged from the 30s in the northern Great Lakes to the 60s near the eastern seaboard and in most of the Gulf Coast States.

Summer Dances Set Up For Columbiana Youth

COLUMBIANA — A series of four summer evening dances has been provided for Columbiana High School students, one night in June, two in July and one in August.

Dances will be under the supervision of school officials and members of civic clubs, and music will be from records.

The program has been set up by the Student Council and Superintendent D. W. Bailey. William Campbell is president of the council, and William Longworth of its activities committee.

With contributions made in coin receptacles in public places not yet counted and mail returns still being received, Atty. John L. Hutson and John Backstrom, chairman of the cancer fund campaign in Columbiana, report receipts of $897. Columbiana contributed more than $1,000 last year.

Children of the community will be welcome to attend Bible school at Midway Mennonite Church, beginning Monday, June 3, and continuing through Friday, June 14, with classes from 7 to 9 p.m. daily for children of four years through high school. Transportation to the church north of town on Route 46, may be arranged by calling the superintendent, Miss Wilma Lehman, KI 9-2045, or Paul Yoder, IV 2-2980.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS made of the engagement of Miss Lucille Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of Salineville, and Paul Biggs of New Castle. They plan a late June wedding.

Miss Johnson is employed in the office of the Enterprise Co. here, and Mr. Biggs in Youngstown. They will live in Columbiana and have a ball room dancing class, Mr. Biggs having been an instructor for Arthur Murray in Youngstown.

Cub Pack 17, Boy Scouts, will meet in the Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. Wednesday, when there will be inspection of uniforms. Members of the pack will march in the Decoration Day parade, the procession to the cemetery to start from Pittsburgh St. at 10 a.m.

When the benches were distributed around the business part of town this spring, there was only one for the bus stop on Union St.

at S. Main, where two are needed and where there have been two heretofore.

One bench was destroyed last fall and the village authorities have never exacted any restitution. The benches have all been donated by civic-minded citizens.

Rev. Arvid Kuitunen of the Lutheran Church at Greenford will be the speaker at the meeting of Fairfield Ruritan Club at Heck's Restaurant Thursday evening, June 27.

Rev. Kuitunen is a native of Finland. At its meeting at Heck's last Thursday evening, the club heard Bruce Cox of Salem, representative of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. Mrs. Clara S. Reeves, 104 W. Salem St., teacher in the first grade of Unity School, absorbed last year into the East Palestine district, has been elected president of the East Palestine Teachers' association. She has also been elected a delegate from the Northeastern Ohio Teachers' association to the centennial convention of the National Education association in Philadelphia, which will open Sunday, June 30.

Kindergarten children and their mothers are invited to the picnic arranged by the Kindergarten Mothers Club for 11:15 a.m. tomorrow in Pavilion 1, Firestone Park.

Joyce Horst, 15-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lee Horst of RD 2, Columbiana, has returned home from Salem City Hospital, where she was admitted Friday noon after eating mushrooms while playing in the yard.

Colts, Fillies Club To Hold Practice

The Salem Colts and Fillies Club will hold drill practice Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the home of Carol Rowe of the Albany Road. The group will practice for participation in the Canfield Fair.

Saturday, the club will meet at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Curt McGhee on Route 62.

Plans for a horse show Aug. 4 were discussed at a recent meeting of the club at the home of Louis Kring of N. Howard Ave.

WILL REPAIR WALL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Construction crews today prepared to repair a huge section of wall that threatens to fall from a downtown office building in the heart of Columbus. The building was vacated as the west wall, between the 15th and 16th floors, appeared ready to collapse.

TOPS IN POPS. — New York Yankees batting star Mickey Mantle, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) and evangelist Billy Graham exchange mutual congratulations after winning Father's Day awards at a meeting of the National Fathers' Day Committee in New York. Mickey, named Sports Father of the Year, has two sons. Sen. McClellan, top titlist as Father of the Year, has three sons, three daughters and seven grandchildren. Graham, chosen in the religion category, has four children.

BOY FALLS 20 FEET

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three-year-old Michael Sievers suffered bruises and a possible concussion Monday when he fell 20 feet from a second floor window at his home in Cleveland Heights. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Sievers.

Oppose Ohio Man's Participation In Racing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Racing Commission "will decide in the near future" whether to ask a Cleveland restaurant owner to show cause why his license to race horses in Ohio should not be revoked.

Commission Chairman Zoltan Gombos said the commission Monday took under advisement a protest against issuance of the license to Morris (Mushy) Wexler, operator of The Theatrical Grill in Cleveland, filed by Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau.

Spencer Drayton, attorney for the bureau, told the commission the bureau opposed "any participation of Wexler in thoroughbred racing in Ohio." He also accused Wexler of having "known associations with known hoodlums and racketeers," of "engaging in illegal racing," of being a "known gambler" and having been associated with the Empire News Service which handled horse racing news and race results.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

CINCINNATI (AP)—City detectives have charged Harold Emmett Dunn, 35-year-old Longview Hospital attendant, with assaulting an elderly patient who was injured critically. Officers filed charges Monday in the beating of Andrew Shannon, 77, of Camp Washington, in a hospital ward.

Supporters Say 'Cutting' Tide Stemmed Ike Passes Word To Aides To 'Beat Drums' For Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has passed word to Cabinet members and other top government officials to beat the drums at every opportunity for the administration's $71,800,000,000 spending program.

They already are pounding away with zest, and a White House official says, "You haven't seen anything yet."

How much good it will do toward changing the mood of an economy-minded Congress remains to be seen. But Eisenhower aides contend the budget-cutting tide is already stemmed, at least for the time being.

Eisenhower reportedly is determined now to hammer at the idea that the Republican party is committed in its 1956 platform to support the kind of program which his critics—some of them within the party—say will cost too much. The approach involves an appeal to Republicans in Congress to close ranks behind the President and then direct fire at the Democrats, who control both the Senate and House, if the Eisenhower budget and legislative program founder.

The President set the tone in his two nationwide television-radio speeches in defense of his spending program, and—on the political front—in a series of telephoned messages to regional GOP rallies held around the country.

As for enlisting the help of key administration officials, the latest example came late Monday, after Postmaster General Summerfield and his department's Civilian Advisory Board had conferred with Eisenhower.

At a White House news Conference, Summerfield said Eisenhower was in full agreement with him and the advisory board that mail service will have to be curtailed drastically starting July 1 unless Congress comes through with more money. He put the figure at 140 million dollars.

A few minutes later Eisenhower followed up on his own in signing an appropriation bill carrying $3,192,000,000 for the Post Office Department for the new fiscal year. He said in a statement that additional funds are needed to avert substantial reduction of postal service, and added he wants the people "to continue to receive the postal service to which they are entitled."

In a Washington speech Monday, Secretary of Commerce Weeks swatted hard at "budget butchers, whose latest proposals go far beyond sound economy and now threaten peace and prosperity."

Such other top officials as Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson and his deputy Donald Quarles have spoken out publicly against budget cutting in their fields.

In perhaps the most significant talk of them all, chief presidential aide Sherman Adams told a Republican party rally in Trenton, N. J., Friday that "repudiation of our party promises and programs will end in nothing but political suicide."

ELECTED BY K OF C
CLEVELAND (AP)—Police Chief Anthony A. Bosch of Toledo was elected state deputy by the Ohio Knights of Columbus at their council meeting here Monday. He succeeds Henry J. Conrad of Cleveland. Anthony J. Bureneman Jr. of Cincinnati was named to succeed Bosch as secretary. Others elected were Donald W. Emerson of Bay Village, state warden, and Leo P. Stark, an assistant Ohio attorney general, state advocate.

ESCAPEE CAPTURED
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Albert Casanova, a 47-year-old Dayton man, was returned to St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday after a brief escape. Casanova, described as "violent," threw bricks at police who were called to the scene outside the hospital. A policeman drove his cruiser into Casanova, knocking him down to the ground, where he was subdued. He suffered bruises, officials said.

Pittsburgh Motorist Sued For $18,085

LISBON — Suite asking total damages of $18,085 were filed in Common Pleas Court Monday as an aftermath of a traffic accident.

Laura Peelman of Salem RD 3 and the Automobile Club Insurance Company of Columbus ask the amount from Harry W. Byer of Pittsburgh, Pa., the defendant in the case.

Laura Peelman seeks $17,500 for injuries received in the accident on June 21, 1955 on Rt. 30, about two miles north of its junction with Rt. 267, and for the loss of wages resulting from the accident. The insurance company asks $585 for damages to the Peelman auto. The petition claims the defendant was driving left of center line, causing the mishap.

KILLED IN COLLISION
AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Lena Swartzlander, 68, was killed in a collision here Monday. Her husband Roy L., 67, driver of one of the cars, was reported in fair condition at General Hospital. The other driver escaped injury.

Tigers Defeat Indians 11-5; Don Mossi To Start Today

DETROIT (AP)—Don Mossi, southpaw relief pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, had his work cut out for him today.

Manager Kerby Farrell named him as starter in the finale of a two-game series with the Detroit Tigers to oppose lefthander Billy Hoelt. Each hurler has a 1-0 record for the season.

Mossi, who hasn't pitched since May 16 because of a back ailment, will be making his first start. He'll face a team that has been beaten only once by southpaw.

Early Wynn made his first relief appearance of the season in the seventh inning of Monday night's series opener and walked home what proved to be the winning run. The Tigers went on to win an 11-5 decision that dropped the Indians to third place in the American League, one game behind the New York Yankees.

The score was deadlocked at 5-5 as a result of a home run battle in the early innings when Wynn went to the mound.

Detroit Woman Champ In Bowling Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Anita Cantaline of Detroit, a former National All-Star champion, repeated the trick this year to become champion in the all-events of the International Women's Bowling Congress Tournament.

Eleanor Towles of Peoria, Ill., is the winner of the singles event and Nellie Vella and Jeannette Grzelak of Rockford, Ill., are champions in the doubles event.

Winners were announced Monday night as the tournament ended. It began April 11.

Miss Cantaline took all-events with a nine-game total of 1,859. She and Mrs. Bowles, who won the singles event with 664, each earned $150 in prize money and a championship medal.

Mrs. Vella and Miss Grzelak, in winning the doubles event with 1,218, received a total of $300 and a championship medal.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus Jets collected four runs on seven hits to edge the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 in an exhibition baseball game here Monday night.

Al Grunewald, who held the Pirates to one hit in the last four innings, was the winning pitcher.

No International League games were scheduled.

Jeffcoat-Logan Fight Typical Baseball Brawl—No Fists Used

MILWAUKEE (AP)—To hear the players tell it, Monday night's fight between Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves and Hal Jeffcoat of Cincinnati was a typical baseball brawl—no punches were thrown.

The two combatants and those nearest the point of contact, third base, didn't feel or see any flailing fists. They apparently remembered that the National League official looks askance at this sort of thing.

This much is certain—the umpires ejected both the 5, 11, 175-pound Logan and the 5-11, 195-pound Jeffcoat for fighting.

The shortlived tussle erupted in the 10th. With one run in and Roy McMillan on third thanks to pinch-hitter Smokey Burgess' single, Jeffcoat, a pitcher, went in to run for Burgess.

Johnny Temple topped a ball to third baseman Eddie Mathews whose throw to the plate was too late to catch McMillan. Catcher Del Crandall hesitated for a moment as Jeffcoat headed toward third. Jeffcoat, shortstop Logan and the ball arrived at about the same time. Logan fell over Jeffcoat. The two wrestled and then exchanged elbows on the ground.

As they got to their feet, they went at it hammer and tong—but no fists.

Both dugouts emptied and so did the Redlegs' bullpen in deep centerfield. Jimmy Dykes, Redlegs' third base coach, and Mathews could be seen wrestling on the ground. The rest of the players pushed and shoved each other, but peace was restored within about five minutes.

Lee Ballanfant, third base umpire, summed it up by saying, "It was just one of those things in the heat of a close game."

The game was so close at that time, but before the Redlegs were through they scored five runs in the frame and won 11-6.

cars ARE MY Line

by Al Parker
STEAM CARS AND THE ATOM

The old electric runabouts and hissing steam cars that disappeared with the gas-line age may be coming back again. The atomic age is the reason.

The atom car is still a gleam in the scientist's eye, but it's getting closer to reality every day. In fact, the atomic car is so certain to zoom upon us some day that we decided to do a little digging on the subject.

The big problem in atomic engines is to control the power that's produced. At first it was thought the only way was to heat water and use that to run a steam turbine, that's how the U. S. atomic submarine Nautilus works.

The problem there was to bring it down to size for cars. You may have read recently of the tiny new atomic battery which produced electrical energy directly, without all the fussing around with steam turbines. It may provide the answer.

Now the problem is to make it big enough to run a car. The atomic battery produces only one-millionth of a watt and at the present time an atom battery big enough to run a car would cost $8,000,000.

So the atom car won't be here tomorrow, and the way the automobile manufacturers are pouring improvements into their new models shows they don't expect to be relegated soon to the horse-and-buggy class. These wonderful improvements in recent years have been a boon to the used car buyer. You often can find a car a few years old, at a bargain price, fully equipped with the automatic drive, increased power and other luxury comforts recently perfected.

Here is a true example of the foregoing statement: 1955 Buick Roadmaster Hard-Top. Previous owner is a local businessman. Equipped with dyna-flow, radio, power brakes, power steering, leather interior and very low mileage. Finished in three-tone, light blue, dark blue and ivory. Price $2045.

Want to amaze your friends and mystify your neighbors? Look us up next week for a little tip that will do the trick.

Bethea Gains Split Decision Over Andrews

NEW YORK (AP)—If Wayne Bethea's punch was half as strong as his chin, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson would have plenty to worry about.

The 24-year-old New York truck loader sampled Paul Andrews' hardest wallop—and the Buffalo longshoreman can clout with the best—and went on to gain a split decision in a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

Bethea, who never has been stopped, was staggered in the second and seventh rounds but came raging back each time.

The chunky New Yorker, using his 11-pound weight edge—20½ to 190½—to good advantage, wore down the thin-legged, 6-3 Andrews with his swarming attack.

Scoring with overhead rights and short combinations, Bethea swept the final three rounds from his tired rival to earn his third straight victory.

Referee Petey Della (6-3-1) and judge Leo Birnbaum (5-4-1) voted for Bethea. Judge Bill Forst (5-4-1) had Andrews ahead. The AP card had it even, 5-5.

Bethea's punches lack power but he never stops throwing leather. Contender Zora Foley of Chandler, Ariz., is the only one who has beaten him in the last 20 months.

A pro only 2 years, 10 months, Bethea has a 16-6-2 record.

8 3-Round Fights Set In Leetonia

Jets Crush Marvels 8-0; E. Furnace Edges Bliss 10-9

Eljer, Drive-In Victors In Other City Games

Deming Jets crushed Deming Marvels 8-0, Electric Furnace nipped Bliss 10-9, Eljer smothered Lincoln Machine 14-3, and Drive-In clipped Petrucci's 14-6 in city league baseball games at Kelley Park last night.

Don Fife of Deming Jets gave up only two hits as he pitched shutout ball all the way for seven innings. His team backed him up by scoring one run in the first inning, four in the third, and three in the seventh.

Gardner and Marks paced the winners, getting two hits in three trips to the plate, while Hahn and Ehrhart were the only two batters to rap out safeties for the losers.

Bliss took an initial 4-0 lead in the top half of the first inning, and then the Furnace charged back with five runs in the bottom half of the first to take over the lead 5-4.

Neither team tallied in the second, and then Bliss tried the count in the top of the third with one run. In the fifth and sixth innings, Bliss scored four runs.

In the bottom half of sixth Furnace stormed back with a five-run outburst to win 10-9.

Sutherland led the Furnace attack, getting three hits in four trips to the plate. Priddy got three hits in four trips to the plate for the losers.

Henry Miller of Eljer pitched four-hit ball, and his teammates ripped out nine hits good for 14 runs to complete this contest in five frames.

Eljer took a 4-0 lead in the first two cantos. In the bottom half of the second inning Lincoln tallied three runs.

In the third and fourth innings Eljer pushed 10 runs across the plate. J. Miller and Delp paced the winners with two hits apiece in three trips to the plate.

In the final fray of the evening, Drive-In scored in every inning but the fourth in a ball game that was decided in six frames. Petrucci's took an initial 3-2 lead at the end of the first inning.

Petrucci's increased their total to 6 runs in the top half of the second, and that was all the scoring they did. Drive-In cut the deficit in the bottom half of the second, scoring two runs, and the

Redlegs 2 Games Ahead Of Burns

Cardinals, Athletics, Yankees Win Games

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Winning on the road and hanging on to pocket extra-inning games may not guarantee Cincinnati a pennant—but it doesn't figure to hurt them either.

The Redlegs, looking more and more like champs, combined those two knacks to finally knock off Milwaukee's slipping Braves Monday night, twice shuffling off blown leads for an explosive, five-run 10th inning that produced an 11-6 victory.

It was the first of the season for Cincinnati against the Braves—who had beaten the Redlegs seven in a row. Cincy has now won 15 straight on the road.

The extra-inning victory, the fourth of the season for the Redlegs who have won every overtime session they've had to play so far, kept Cincinnati two games ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who beat Philadelphia 5-1 on Don Drysdale's two-hit pitching.

The St. Louis Cardinals, with Stan Musial 3-for-5, belted Chicago's Cubs 6-2.

In the American, the pesky Kansas City Athletics thumped first-place New York Yankees walloped Boston 17-8, and Detroit pushed Cleveland into third 11-5.

Washington defeated Baltimore 3-2 in 11 innings in completing a game suspended April 21, then shelled the Orioles 10-6 in a regularly scheduled contest.

An eighth-inning home run by Hank Aaron and a ninth-inning shot by Del Crandall tied it at 6-all for the Braves.

But Cincinnati hustled back to rock reliever Ernie Johnson, who had taken over from Lew Burdette. A pinch single by Smokey Burgess scored the clincher. Hersh Freeman won it in relief.

The Phillies got just two singles off Drysdale, both in the second inning as Ed Bouchee and Joe Lonnett connected for the run. Duke Snider's two-run homer broke a 1-1 tie and Gino Cimoli's two-run jolt wrapped up Drysdale's fourth victory—and Robin Roberts' sixth defeat.

Musial's eighth home run, with a man on, capped a four-run Cardinal fifth that broke a 1-1 deadlock.

The A's got started against the Sox and Jim Wilson with Lou Skizas' seventh home run, added a pair of unearned markers and then bagged it with a four-run sixth that included a two-run single by Vic Power.

Bill Skowron hit a two-run homer and two-run single for the Yankees, who had 13 hits.

A double by Al Kaline, three walks, a squeeze bunt and a two-run single by winning reliever Paul Foytack brought the Tigers four runs in the seventh against loser Early Wynn.

Jim Lemon's home run won the April 21 completion for the Senators, who had led 2-1 when the lights failed last month. Lemon then drove in four runs with a homer and sacrifice in the regularly scheduled game.

At Least 40 Drivers To Compete In Canfield Memorial Day Classic

Canfield Speedway's eight-year Memorial Day 100-mile classic has become one of the most popular races in the Midwest and has been witnessed by about 150,000 fans.

And next Thursday afternoon's duel, 200-laps around the half-mile oval, has shaped up as the most outstanding of all Manager Charlie Findlay's programs. Already 51 cars are entered and a field of 60 is expected to be on hand for the chase for a share of the $7,000 in purse money.

A field of at least 40 starters is assured.

THE FIRST APPEARANCE of MARC's southern division has added spice to the annual May 30 thriller. Headed by Gober Sosbee, at least five of the top southern pilots will make the long haul from Georgia. Sosbee, a three-time winner of the Daytona Beach championships, will bring a 1957 Plymouth to Canfield.

Roz Howard is rated as one of the top southern drivers at present. He has won five new car events in his 1957 Chevrolet this year and will rate as one of the favorites here.

It has developed into a fight between the southern and northern pedal-pushers and all of MARC's top midwest pilots will also be here to give them plenty of competition.

Heading this list is the winningest driver in the circuit, Jack Farlie of New Paris, O., who will have his 1957 Chevrolet convertible in top shape.

IGGY KATONA of Lambertsville, Mich. will have his fuel-injection Chevrolet ready, and the popular Mike Klapak of Warren, O., will have the 1957 super-charged Ford in the lineup.

Two former winners are also slated for action. They are veteran Bucky Sager of Toledo, who has a 1957 Oldsmobile, and Russ Hepler of Clarion, Pa., in a 1957 Pontiac. Sager won in 1954, while Hepler took top honors last year. Gates open promptly at 10 on Thursday morning. Time trials get started at 11 and the long duel begins at 2:30 p.m.

Among district entrants are: Jerry Carver, Canfield; Roy Gemberling, Kent; Mike Klapak, Warren; Nook Walters, Niles; Rolie Beale, Toledo; and Russ Allen, Billy Erhardt and Don Weyer of Youngstown.

Orioles Have Scored 4 Runs Less Than Foes

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, struggling along in seventh place in the American League with a 13-22 record, have scored just four less runs than the opposition this year.

The Orioles scored 153 runs in the 35 games, while allowing the opposition 157.

Baltimore has been involved in 14 one-run games, losing 10. The luckless Birds also have played nine extra-inning games and show a 4-5 record in that department.

Two of the extra-inning losses involved 16-inning games.

Martin, Ramsden Win Golf Tournament

Ralph Martin and Carl Ramsden took first place, with a 62 in the Partner Best Ball Golf Tournament held at the Salem Golf Club over the weekend.

Al Moser and Robert Davis finished second with 63, and two teams, George Aronson and Judge Joel H. Sharp, Robert McCulloch Jr., and Elliott Hansell, tied for third with 65 scores.

Air Over National League Directors' Get-Together Is Heavy With Rumors

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Directors of the National League, meeting today six weeks earlier than scheduled, were surrounded by a welter of rumors all of which were tagged by official denials.

One report was that a three-way switch of franchises was in prospect, shifting the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles, the New York Giants to San Francisco and the Cincinnati Redlegs to New York.

Commissioner Ford Frick has put a gag on any public discussions by major league officials regarding franchise transfers. But this didn't prevent strong denials.

"No request has been made by any club to move any franchise anywhere at any time," said Warren Giles, National League president.

General Manager Gabe Paul of Cincinnati added: "I would not dignify such rumors by even commenting on them."

It was reported that television and broadcast contracts for the three clubs in their new sites already have been approved.

To this, Paul replied: "If this is true someone besides Mr. Crosley (Powell Crosley, Jr., president of the Redlegs) and myself must have signed the contracts for the Redlegs. And only we two are authorized to sign such agreements."

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, said that he knew "absolutely nothing" about such transfer reports.

Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, said "I'm not going to get involved in any spring time romancing."

Although possible franchise changes are not on the agenda, Giles said that if any club wishes to bring up such a switch it could be considered if all other teams were willing to discuss it.

He added that if any such changes were suggested and approved by the necessary eight clubs, there still would remain the formality of drafting the needed territory, a procedure which league rules permit only during the month of October.

The National League meeting normally would be held during the time of the All-Star game in St. Louis in July. Giles said it had been moved ahead of the congressional hearings on baseball, opening June 10 in Washington, D.C., so that the league attorney, Lou Carroll, could attend.

The American League meeting and joint session of both leagues have been summoned by Frick for July 8, the day preceding the All-Star game at St. Louis.

Getting down to brass tacks, Giles said the only business specifically on the agenda includes these items:

1. A proposal submitted by the Milwaukee Braves for the fourth time that a change in the constitution require only six votes for a franchise shift instead of the present eight.

2. A routine waiving of the constitution to permit the playing of more than seven night games by each club this season. The pressure of accumulated unplayed games resulting from postponements usually has resulted in a move at the midsummer meeting to suspend the limit.

3. Adoption of a rule which will make a suspended game of any called by light failure, no matter what the inning.

4. A report by Paul, chairman of the television committee.

5. Any other business which may properly be considered. Meanwhile in Cincinnati, the Chamber of Commerce set up a special committee to study a proposed new stadium for the Redlegs.

"We are well aware of the inducements which are being offered to major league ball clubs by other communities," said chamber president E. J. Wheeler.

"Notably are the twin cities of Minneapolis-St. Paul and San Francisco and Los Angeles," he added. "Anyone who has taken the trouble to investigate knows that the population of metropolitan Cincinnati is next to the smallest of any major league franchise community."

"There is no question in our minds that the Redleg franchise is a tremendous civic asset which our community must make every effort to retain."

Demands For Specialized Boat May Produce Results

By DION HENDERSON

Maybe something is going to be done after all in response to the poor old fisherman's modest demands for a specialized boat.

At least, the Evinrude outboard motor people—who understandably have a certain interest in fishermen—have taken note of the situation by demonstrating a shocker in the boat business.

It's the Fisherman, a floating saucer—"14 feet in any direction"—that stirred up interest at boat shows around the country earlier this spring. Last week, Evinrude put the outfit into the water at Milwaukee and contrary to observations heard at various exhibitions, it worked.

Powered by two moderate-sized outboards (18 horse, for the demonstration) the Fisherman not only worked, but worked well.

Evinrude has no intention of building the Fisherman as a commercial project. Anyhow, it's not exactly what you'd call the answer to modest demands—being a $14,000 job with a fancy upholstered center lounge of "fishing chairs," and an electronic control panel with provision for the likes of underwater television, navigation scanners and such.

But it looks as little like a conventional boat as anything you can think of, and that's the idea. Says Howard Larson of Evinrude: "It was designed for only one purpose—to encourage boat builders to break from tradition and seek new concepts in design work."

Anglers have been lamenting of late that the big boom in boating has turned out brand spanking new equipment for every kind of boating but theirs. Since four out of five small boats now sold are primarily pleasure boats, it's not hard to see why the family craft, the cruisers and the runabouts have been getting most of the attention.

However, Larson says that what worked once before might work again. Two years ago, his firm commissioned a rakish outboard runabout with sweepback fins and bucket seats—sort of a sports car afloat.

Its influence now can be seen on nearly every popular inland lake—a situation for which wake-tossed anglers may not be particularly grateful.

But maybe the Fisherman will make the fishermen feel better.

Redlegs Defeat Braves 11-6

Cincinnati Scores First Win Over Milwaukee This Year

MILWAUKEE (U)—Cincinnati's Redlegs have finally dissolved the galling jinx that the Milwaukee Braves held over them.

A 10-inning effort, enlivened by a brawl and some hairy hitting, gave the Reds an 11-6 decision Monday night—first win over the Braves this year.

The victory preserved the Reds' two-game National League lead over Brooklyn. It allowed the Redlegs to jump on Brave righthander Lew Burdette.

Starter Johnny Klippstein finally turned the job over to rookie Rauil Sanchez in the eighth after WINS LEBANON RACE

LEBANON, Ohio (U)—Pay Skipper, fleet Lebanon-based bay gelding, trotted off with a victory in the featured sixth race at Lebanon Raceway Monday night. Track officials noted 1,009 visitors who bet $38,343 through the mutuels.

giving up a walk, a two-run homer by Hank Aaron and a single.

But Sanchez had trouble settling down, and after yielding a single, allowed a run to score on a wild pitch.

The Reds punched out another run in the ninth, but the Braves pulled even, 6-6, on a two-run blast by Del Crandall.

That's when the Reds got hot. A walk and four hits—including a double by Gus Bell—produced a five-run Cincinnati pileup that stood as the final margin.

That's also when the brawl came in. Hal Jeffcoat, running for Smokey Burgess, slid hard into third base when Brave Johnny Logan was covering the bag.

Fists started flying between the two men and both benches erupted onto the playing field. But officials quickly restored order and the game continued.

The final game with Milwaukee comes here tonight with Don Gross slated to oppose Warren Spahn.

Roberto Rossellini Plans To Be Discreet

BOMBAY (AP)—Roberto Rossellini and his pretty Bengali script writer reportedly have decided not to live so close to each other.

Count Vittorio Lavison, the Italian consul, indicated Rossellini plans to be more discreet in his relations with Mrs. Sonali Das Gupta, whose film have been raising a cry over the reported romance.

As a start, Lavison hinted, they will give up their adjoining quarters in Bombay's Taj Mahal Hotel.

Lavison discounted reports the Italian producer, husband of actress Ingrid Bergman, has been given a week to get out of India.

"I expect Rossellini will complete his film shooting schedule before he leaves," he said.

Rossellini has gone to Poona to do some more documentary films for the Indian government. He has repeatedly insisted he and Sonali have only a business arrangement and has denied reports he plans to divorce Miss Bergman, who is in Paris.

A relative of Mrs. Das Gupta commented: "Rossellini let Sonali up the garden path and now probably will leave her in the lurch."

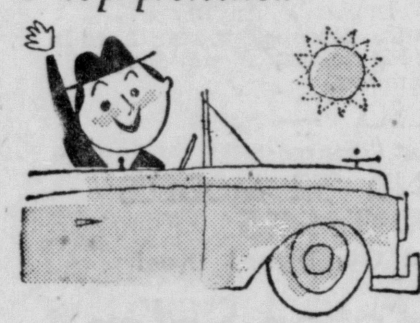

Sonali, 28-year-old mother of two, left home nearly a month ago to be near Rossellini. She asserted she would never return to her husband, Hari Das Gupta, an Indian movie director.

A spokesman for India's Home Ministry said the government is still debating whether it should extend Rossellini's visa so he can finish his film series.

Mother Accused Of Burning Children

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police said they will file felonious assault charges today against a 26-year-old Dayton mother accused of inflicting severe burns on her two-year-old twins.

Officers said Mrs. Mildred Hammett, a negro, who gave birth to her sixth child three days ago, admitted the incidents Monday.

Mrs. Hammett told police she placed her son Tony Allen on a hot gas register May 13, and held him there, after learning he needed a diaper change. Another time she made him walk barefoot across a hot floor register, police said.

On another occasion, her daughter, Tonya, crawled under Mrs. Hammett's feet while she was ironing. As punishment, police said, Mrs. Hammett placed the hot iron against Tonya's body. In another incident, they said, Mrs. Hammett held the girl's hand under hot water long enough to cause second degree burns.

Tony Allen was reported in fair condition today at St. Elizabeth Hospital with third degree burns on his back, legs, arms, face and bottom of both feet.

Tonya was released from the hospital Saturday after treatment for burns on the back, shoulder and left hand.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS
Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Village Clerk of the Village of Washingtonville, Columbiana and Mahoning Counties, Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon, June 17, 1957 instead of April 12, 1957, as previously advertised for the purchase of $25,000 of bonds of the principal amount of $27,500, dated February 15, 1957, of the denomination of $1,000 each, bearing interest at the rate of four (4%) per cent per annum, payable December 15, 1957, and semi-annually thereafter, and maturing on December 15 of each year as follows: $1,000 from 1958 to 1960, inclusive, and $2,000 in 1961 and 1962.

These bonds are payable at the Citizens Savings Bank of Leontonia, Leontonia, Ohio, from unlimited taxes. Any one desiring to do so may present a bid or bids for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest from that hereinafore specified, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

These bonds are issued for the purpose of paying for the cost of constructing a complete sanitary sewerage system and sewage disposal plant, under authority of the general laws of the State of Ohio, particularly the Uniform Bond Law of the Revised Code, pursuant to Ordinance No. 82, adopted by the Board of Village of Leontonia, Ohio, on January 16, 1957, and by virtue of the requisite majority vote of the electors of said village on said proposition on November 6, 1956.

All bids must be accompanied by a bond or certified check payable to the village, equal to at least 10% (10%) per cent of the bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted the fiscal officer will deliver to the successful bidder, within three weeks of the award, a complete certified transcript of the proceedings showing the bids received, the award made, and the bonds to be received and paid for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth. If the bid is not accepted, the bonds to be returned promptly at the request of the successful bidder if the transcript is not delivered with the time specified herein.

No conditional bids will be received. The approving opinion of Peck, Shaffer and Smith, Attorneys at Law of Cincinnati, Ohio, will be furnished to the successful bidder at his expense, in the amount of $350.00 as a condition of the sale.

Bids should be sealed and endorsed: "Bids for Sewer System Bonds," and delivered to the Village Clerk, Washingtonville, Ohio. Salem News, May 28, June 4 and 11, 1957.

LEGAL NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Separate sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of the United Local School District of General, Leontonia, Plumb and Electrical Contract Work relating to the existing elementary and high school, Hanoverton, R. D. 1, Ohio.

Proposals to be received in the office of the Board of Education, United Local School District, Elementary Building, R. D. 1, Hanoverton, Ohio, until 12:00 Noon Eastern Daylight Savings Time on June 12, 1957. Bids will be opened and publicly read immediately thereafter on the same day.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the office of Kling & Frost, Architects, 661 Wick Avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, upon a deposit of Twenty Five Dollars ($25.00) in cash or certified check, for which a receipt will be given. Each bidder will be allowed one (1) plan and specification and extra copies may be obtained at a cost of Fifteen Dollars ($15.00) per set.

All plans and specifications must be returned to the office of the Architects in good condition without any marks or notations thereon, on or before the date of closing of bids. This complied with, the bidder will receive his deposit, otherwise he will forfeit his deposit.

Each bidder will be required to submit with his bid a certified check, cashier's check or bid bond in the amount of ten percent (10%) of the total bid of the items bid upon.

The character and amount of security required to be furnished for and in connection with the performance of the contract, is stated in the proposed contract document.

The right is reserved by the Board of Education to reject any of all bids and to waive informalities. No bid may be withdrawn for at least thirty days (30) after the opening thereof.

SERGEANT REYNOLDS ARRIVES IN U. S. — Army M/Sgt. Robert G. Reynolds arrives with his family at Travis Air Force Base, Calif. Reynolds steadfastly refused to discuss his part in the first recent major breach in Nationalist China-U. S. relations when Chinese rioted in Taipei, Formosa. Reynolds was acquitted of murdering a native, causing the widespread rioting and sacking of the U. S. embassy in Taipei. Reynolds is shown with his wife, Clara, and his seven-year-old daughter, Shirley.

Plowing Contests To Attract 300,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 1957 World's Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contests, to be held Sept. 17-20 at Peebles in Adams County, are expected to draw more than 300,000 persons from all over the world, a six-county delegation from Central Ohio was told Monday.

Robert Hedland, Cleveland, helping to promote the contests, said it is the first time they have been held in this country and the first time they will be combined with a conservation exposition.

Fifteen nations will offer entries in the plowing contests, Hedland said. The United States will be represented by Lawrence Goette-mpeller, 46, a Mercer County farmer, and Don Daniels, 35, a farmer of near Mulberry, Ill.

An Ohio farm girl, yet to be selected, will reign over the contests as "Queen of the Furrow." County and area contests will be held to name the queen. Single girls between 16 and 21 who live on Ohio farms are eligible to compete, Hedland said.

INJURIES ARE FATAL

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Injuries suffered in late 1954 when struck by a truck at her Trenton home caused the death of Middletown Hospital Sunday night of Deborah Imogene Russell, 5. She had been hospitalized and underwent several operations since the mishap.

To Probe U. S. Auto Program

Low Rental Rates Invite Questions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some House members are trying to find out how the government can rent sleek, $10,000 automobiles for high administration officials at the bargain rate of $500 a year.

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) said today a congressional investigation can be expected to "start soon" into the government's entire program of buying and leasing automobiles.

"At least 26 Cadillacs—like those of the White House fleet—are rented for $500 a year, including maintenance," Brown wrote in his weekly newsletter.

Noting that the government also purchases outright a number of similar large cars, as well as thousands of lower priced motor vehicles, he added:

"It is estimated that the cost of the annual operation of government-owned luxury cars runs from $6,000 to $9,000 per year each."

He did not say whose estimate he was quoting. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said May 1 it cost $1,500 to $4,800 a year to trade in the cars that Congress provides for its leaders.

At this point, no congressional committee has announced any plan to look into the car program. But it received attention in the House recently.

Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) said he had learned that the Pentagon—headquarters for the top military—recently got four new Cadillacs and one new Chrysler Imperial.

"How do they manage to rent Cadillacs and Imperials over there for $500 a year?" he asked.

Rep. Hays (D-Ohio), replied: "If you will notice the close liaison between the big brass in the Pentagon and General Motors I think that might explain it."

Rep. Rooney (D-NY) had a different explanation. He said he thought General Motors and Chrysler were able to rent out the luxury cars cheaply "probably at the expense of their stockholders and the American taxpayers through deductions of the loss on tax returns."

But to Rep. Halleck (R-Ind.), the whole question was one of "somebody trying to make a mountain out of a molehill."

Score To Leave Hospital Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pitcher Herb Score, who suffered an eye injury when hit by a line drive, was to leave Lakeside Hospital today and go to the home of an uncle in Hagerstown, Md., for further recuperation.

The uncle, Arthur Flood, is sending a plane here to take the Cleveland Indians' million-dollar southpaw to Maryland.

Score was hit in the right eye by a drive off the bat of Gil McDougald in a night game with the New York Yankees May 7. He is on the Tribe's disabled list until June 8, but it is expected to be several weeks after that before he is back in uniform.

Dr. Charles Thomas, Cleveland eye specialist, says he is pleased with the way the pitcher's injured eye has been mending but it will be some time before the exact extent of the effect on Score's vision, if any, is known. The damage was diagnosed as a swollen retina.

STEPS TOWARD HOPE — Six-year-old Donna Deyfong, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who was born without legs, shows how well she can walk with artificial limbs in a demonstration before the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare in Washington. Looking on, in foreground, are Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.). Donna's artificial limbs, though attached by no cumbersome harness, need nothing more than suction to stay on.

Senate GOP Sees Housing Bill As Triple-Play Opportunity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans snapped up a triple-play opportunity today to support President Eisenhower, to stand for economy and to maneuver the Democrats toward a tight political corner.

A housing authorization bill, in the Democratic-controlled Banking Committee pumped Eisenhower's $1,025,000,000 budgetary request up to $2,850,000,000, offered GOP members a happy chance to display a kind of political unity with the White House notably lacking in the last few months.

Senate Republican Leader: Knowland of California, who has called for a three-billion-dollar reduction in Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 spending budget, made it clear the GOP will take advantage of its three-fold opportunity. "I regard this bill as a test of who is for economy and who is not," he said.

He said the position of Democrats who have advocated economy but who vote for an expanded and more costly housing program will be pointed out "at the proper time."

Most of the Democrats who faced this political dilemma didn't want to discuss it publicly. Some made it clear they hope compromises can be reached to avoid record roll call votes.

But Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), who wants to trim the authorization back to the figure Eisenhower requested, said those who support the enlarged program will be voting to nullify all economies Congress had made thus far.

There was some argument over this point. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) one of the sponsors of the bill, told his colleagues that the housing program has paid its way and

Awaits Jury Action In Cleveland Killing

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—David Rothstein, 46, of Lima, Ohio, is awaiting grand jury action today in the fatal shooting May 6 of Maurice Knapp, 42, of Cleveland.

Rothstein was bound over to a Palm Beach grand jury after preliminary hearings Monday.

State Atty. Phil O'Connell indicated at the hearings that others may be arrested.

"I said Rothstein murdered him," O'Connell said, "and I am going to prove it. He had others helping him and we'll get to those too."

Knapp was killed in front of his home after he returned from an automobile ride with Rothstein and Mrs. Knapp, Rothstein's sister.

"and just wait 'til you see inside...
It's the prettiest car we've ever owned!"

ANNE: It certainly is beautiful... from any angle!

BETTY: But what I like best is the wonderful feeling I get when I'm driving. Heavenly comfort! And the things they're doing with colors and fabrics these days! Honestly, I feel just like a queen!

ANNE: You should! I'm not trying to pry, but I'll bet it cost a king's ransom

BETTY: Wouldn't you be surprised! It cost a lot less than we expected. And, Ed says it will cost less in the long run, too, because an Olds holds its value.

ANNE: Leave it to you to have your cake and eat it, too!

BETTY: And why not? Ed, bless his practical streak, wanted an Olds for its extra value and the Rocket Engine. So, who am I to say "no" to the prettiest thing on wheels? You ought to pass the word along to John!

ANNE: You can say that again! I will tonight!
